PRICE FIVE CENTS

100 FAMILIES IN NEED OF AID FOR HOLIDAYS

The Holiday Bureau made a desperate appeal today for persons to help the needy at Christmas.

Where the bureau a few days ago had 50 needy families on its list, additional information has brought the number to 100, officials of the bureau said today.

The problem is aggravated by the fact that the bureau will be open only a total of five more hours. Manned by volunteers, most of them secretaries in local offices and other volunteers, the Bureau is scheduled to be open today from 2 to 4 o'clock. Tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock, and on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. The phone number is ED 4-5809. The location is 141 Baltimore St.

NEW SITUATION

Established a number of years ago to provide names of needy families at Christmas time, the volunteer organization in the past generally has had more persons wishing to help the needy at Christmas time than the number of persons needing the assistance.

This year the problem has reversed and the Bureau has a long list of names available for those who wish to help others during the season. Some of these who secure names provide Christmas dinners, some a "complete Christmas" with dinner, gifts for the youngsters and adults and even, when needed, a Christmas tree.

While appealing for persons to help the needy, the bureau also urged those who may be providing "Christmas" for needy who have not secured the names through the Holiday Bureau to phone it. The Bureau hopes that at least some of those on its lists will be receiving gifts from individuals unknown to the Bureau, and if it is so notified those names can be taken from the lists.

Another Season Low Mark Is Set

The weatherman continued to set new cold records for the season as fall moved into its closing days. Winter begins Sunday.

The low this morning at The Gettysburg Times weather station was 7 above zero which is not a record for this date but the coldest weather here this season. At 8 a.m. the mercury had risen only to 9 above zero. Thursday's high was 22.

The icy temperatures today completed a full week since Gettysburg has seen above freezing temperatures. Friday afternoon, December 13, saw a high of 36 degrees but the mercury has not risen above the 32-degree mark since that time.

Forecasts say the current cold wave will be extended into the weekend.

EDUCATIONAL TV THEME FOR COULSON TALK

Educational television is expected to be available to schools in Adams and eight other counties in this section of the state next fall at no more than $1 per pupil to the participating school districts.

That prospect was stated by M. Francis Coulson, Adams County's superintendent of schools, in a radio talk on WGAT at noon Thursday.

At no more than "the cost of three or four comic books" per pupil, the opportunities of educational TV may be made available, the schoolman said in his talk on "Educational Television in Adams County."

He said in part: "In this day of knowledge and population explosions, when it is difficult to keep the number of qualified teachers abreast with the demands for education, what a wonderful opportunity to duplicate the skills of the individual teacher in many classrooms."

NEED AS MANY TEACHERS
"The same can be true for teaching in any specialized subject; such as advanced mathematics, art, creative literature or foreign language, where perhaps the teacher not only is qualified to teach the language but perhaps can speak it with native accent and flair."

"Educational television does not reduce the number of teachers needed in the classrooms because individual instruction and prompting and testing are still necessary but it does bring the best talent and the highest inspirational quality of outstanding teachers to every student."

"Educational television has two purposes. One is to beam planned lesson courses to area school rooms, using the best teacher talent for every pupil of a given grade or course. The other purpose is to give the public, the rank and file of people, an opportunity to learn. The housewife can take a few well appointed hours to study in the home and acquire college credits for a degree that has been denied her. The technician working in a manufacturing plant can take a refresher course in electronics. The person hoping to travel to foreign countries

Bitter arctic cold maintained a stubborn grip across most of the nation from the Rockies to New England today. No immediate relief was in sight.

Western New York plowed out from a crippling snowstorm that marooned hundreds of motorists. Schools and roads were reported open but travel remained hazardous.

The prewinter siege of cold and heavy snow—a week long in most of the Midwest — was blamed for at least 22 deaths.

The Weather Bureau reported 35 below zero overnight at Bemidji, Minn., and 26 below at International Falls, Minn. In New York's Adirondack Mountains, it was 23 below at Wanaque and 20 below at Boonville, Watertown, N.Y., and Bismarck, N.D., both registered -19.

The freezing weather also clutched northern Florida, at 26 above.

FEW ENTRIES IN XMAS HOME TRIM CONTEST

Members of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce are concerned over the few entries in the annual Christmas home decoration contest being conducted within a two-mile radius of town.

A committee spokesman said they are hopeful that more entries will be received over the weekend to make up a sizable roster from which to judge.

Wilbur Varian, chairman of the committee, said, "Some people may be reluctant to enter the contest because they fear their displays are not large enough. But this year the big factor will be artistic merit, rather than size." He listed the judges as Norman Annis, head of the art department at Gettysburg College who recently won three top prizes at the Corcoran Art Gallery; Clara Elsen Peck, a local artist, and Marc Starkins, of the art center here.

The prizes will be: $75 first, $50 second, $40 third, $25 fourth and $10 fifth. Last year the winners, in order, were Mrs. William Swisher, E. Middle St.; Morris DeSimon, Gettysburg R. 2; John D. Lawver, Barlow St.; John Grindler, Ridge Ave., and Oscar Cullison, Breckenridge St.

MAN TRIPPED BY OIL HOSE ASKS $5,000

Ralph Ketchum, Madison, Wis., has brought an action in trespass in Adams County court against the Aero Oil Co., New Oxford, alleging that employees of the oil company had caused injury to him "in excess of $5,000" because he tripped over a hose extending from an Aero oil truck to a property on Lincoln Square.

According to the papers filed in the prothonotary's office for Ketchum by Attorney Donald M. Swope, the Wisconsin man was walking on the northwest quadrant of Lincoln Square at 10 a.m. on June 8, 1962, headed from the Chambersburg St. intersection toward Carlisle St. when he tripped over the hose "carelessly and negligently laid" across the sidewalk from the truck to a building being supplied with oil.

Ketchum alleged that he was "walking with due care" when his foot caught in the hose and he fell to the sidewalk, suffering "an unseparated lineal fracture of the left thigh bone which caused him great pain and agony, and which has caused him to have a permanent partial disability."

The complaint alleges "the plaintiff has been compelled to expend various sums of money for hospital and medical attention in attempting to alleviate and cure the aforesaid injuries and was prevented from attending to his usual occupation to his great financial loss."

The complaint alleges that the oil company was negligent in "obstructing public sidewalks with a hose without sufficiently making it safely visible."

SEEK TO END DISPUTE OVER GRAIN SALES

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees will try to settle a difference of $470 million and iron out a dispute over grain sales to the Soviet bloc as they seek agreement today on foreign aid appropriations.

The Senate has voted $3,272,503,000 for foreign aid for the fiscal year that begins July 1, the House $2,801,700,000. It is the conferees' job to find a middle ground acceptable to both branches. The original White House request was for $4.5 billion.

This may prove easier to do than to hurdle the grains obstacle.

ISSUES ARE CLEAR

The issue was sharply drawn Thursday night when the Senate passed the aid bill 60-25 after deleting, 52-32, a House amendment to prohibit the export-import bank from guaranteeing credit for trade with Communist countries.

The House adopted the amendment by a vote of 218-69 Monday and Republican leader Charles A. Halleck hinted that if House conferees go along with the Senate in knocking it out, House Republicans will ask that the bill be returned to conference. With the House planning to fold up shop tonight, a deadlock could result in putting the bill over until next year.

APPROVE DELETION

The Senate approved deletion of the commodity sale ban after Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield read a letter from President Johnson urging that course.

Johnson said sale of wheat and other commodities to Communist nations on reasonable terms are "good for our farmers and exporters, good for our shipping and railroad industry, good for our balance of payments, and good for the country."

"It makes no sense to jeopardize these possible gains by this legislative rider," Johnson said.

BLOCK SLASHES

In addition to rejecting the House rider, the Senate turned back by wide bipartisan margins four attempts to make deep slashes in its appropriation. Two minor amendments trimming $27 million from the measure were accepted.

An amendment by Sen. WAAY Morse, D-Ore., to reduce the bill to $3 billion was rejected 55-31. An effort by Morse to slash supporting economic assistance to defense pact allies from $380 million to $300 million was turned down 55-28.

On other votes, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was defeated 53-34 on a move to cut supporting assistance from $380 million to $350 million. Another Ellender amendment, to reduce economic development funds from $800 million to $600 million, was beaten down, 54-30.

FILES ACTION TO GET $500

District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter Thursday filed a "confession of judgment" against Paul John Brantner, Fairfield R. D., to collect $500.40 he allegedly owes the county for costs and in arrears on a support order.

The judgment contains a certificate signed by Probation Officer D. M. Anderson stating that his records and the records of the clerk of courts show Brantner owes costs of $45.50 and an arrearage of $345 on the nonsupport case on which he was sentenced July 9 and owes the county costs of $109.90 on a case of assault and battery on which he was sentenced on the same date.

The judgment is based on the $500 bond to comply with the court's orders signed by Brantner July 9.

Probation Officer Anderson said the unusual action was brought because Brantner is expected to receive some money from an estate and that a similar judgment was entered several months ago against Bernard Hewitt, formerly of Gettysburg R. D. which resulted in the county obtaining $1,500 which Hewitt was to have inherited.

While judgments can be brought against those who fail to pay costs or arrearages, the judgments, he said, are normally not filed unless there appears to be some funds available to secure.

HOSPITAL HEAD IS REINSTATED

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Civil Service Commission ordered the immediate reinstatement today of Roland F. Daley, dismissed Oct. 21 from his position as business manager at the Samuel G. Dixon State Hospital in Mont Alto.

The commission said Daley was removed by the state Health Department because of his alleged failure to cultivate and maintain good relations with local party officials.

The commission ordered him restored with full back pay. His salary was $7,407 a year.

Daley appealed his dismissal and was granted a public hearing Nov. 14.

Dr. C. Herschel Jones, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said "it is the commission's opinion that certain problems are inherent in a situation wherein appointing authority deals with both merit system and patronage employees."

"There is a duty to the public on the part of state agencies to see that standards are maintained and the quality of its services is not sacrificed," Dr. Jones added. "At the same time a friendly and cordial relationship with political groups is desirable."

The commission said Daley's problems in public relations resulted from circumstances and policies over which he had no control.

Part-Time College Student Is Jailed For Threatening Life Of John F. Kennedy

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Jailed on a charge of threatening the life of President Kennedy, young Russell W. McLarry insisted he was only joking.

Investigators acknowledged they had found nothing to link him to the assassination.

McLarry, a 21-year-old part-time college student described by his father as a "nice kid who shoots off his mouth too much sometimes," remained in county jail today in lieu of $2,500 bond.

He was arrested Thursday and charged with threatening Kennedy's life prior to the assassination Nov. 22. Secret Service agents quoted him as saying he was "proud—no, glad" that Kennedy was dead.

NO OSWALD LINK
U.S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas said:

"So far as we know, there is no connection" between McLarry and the President's death.

"We merely charged him with making a threat against the President, a definite violation of the law, but that's as far as it goes."

Sanders pointed out that McLarry apparently had no association with Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of killing the President.

Oswald died two days after the President when night club operator Jack Ruby pumped a bullet into his midsection as officers started to move Oswald from one jail to another. Ruby's murder trial is set for Feb. 3.

WAITING WITH GUN
The complaint naming McLarry charges:

"On Nov. 21, he made certain threats to take the life of and to inflict bodily harm upon John F. Kennedy, then the President of the United States, by stating in substance that he would be working near the Trade Mart in Dallas, Tex., where the President was supposed to speak, and that he would be waiting with a gun to get the President."

Officers said the statements were made to two women the day before the assassination.

Charles E. Kunkel, a Secret Service special agent, said at a preliminary hearing before U.S. Commissioner Bill Atkins that McLarry told him "he was not sorry the President was killed."

He said he was proud—no, glad—that the President had been killed."

McLarry, sullen and poker-faced, recalled making a statement that might have been construed as a threat.

"I don't remember exactly what I said. The statement I made was a joke. If I am tried for a joke and found guilty—well, that's the extent of it," he said.

CORRECTION

Luntz and Harold Dearth voted against replacement of the faculty room ceiling at the meeting of the Fairfield school board Monday evening, stating that the work would be done without expense to the school as part of the original contract. PROGRAM TONIGHT
The annual Christmas program will be presented this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Amunciation Parochial School at McSherrystown.

FREE ON BAIL IN AUTO DEATH

Arrested Wednesday at 7 p.m. on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Dayne E. Garrett, Hanover, Edward J. Clapsaddle, 23, of Hanover, was released on $1,000 bail on an involuntary manslaughter charge and $500 bail on a charge of participating in a speed contest stemming from a fatal crash at 5 a.m. Sunday, September 15, on a rural road near the Sheppard and Myers impounding dam, about six miles south of Hanover.

The accident claimed the life of William A. Hess Jr., 21, New Oxford R. 1, and hospitalized five other youths, all occupants in a car driven by Clapsaddle.

Frank Higgins, 19, Hanover, driver of the other auto involved, escaped with scratches and bruises. Higgins was released September 20 on the same charges and the same amount of bail.

Garrett said both entered pleas of not guilty and waived a hearing for appearance in court early next year.

Charges against Clapsaddle and Higgins were filed by State Police Trooper Bernard A. Yanetti, Gettysburg substation.

Give Xmas Program Thursday Evening

A concert was given Thursday evening in St. Euphemia's Hall, Emmitsburg, by members of the Junior and St. Joseph Choirs. Children of the Junior Choir sang Christmas carols and the St. Joseph Choir sang "Sanctus Benedictus" by Gounod. Selections were given on the piano by several members. Gerolf Engelstatter played "Silent Night" on the organ, Wanda Zurgable played it on the guitar, Mr. and Mrs. Engelstatter sang it in German, Mrs. Marie Rosensteel sang "O Holy Night" and Louie Rosensteel sang "Silent Night."

Santa Claus distributed gifts. Rev. Louis Storms, pastor, congratulated Mrs. Louella Rosensteel, directress, and the participants on the program planned on a few days notice. He also expressed his appreciation to the parents and children.

Refreshments were served.

In an effort to reduce the number of traffic accidents between Christmas and New Year's, the Bureau of Traffic Safety is urging Pennsylvania motorists to compete for the world's most precious gift.

Rules for the contest announced by Commissioner Harry H. Brainerd, Bureau of Traffic Safety, are elementary. The first prize is the world's most priceless gift—life. According to Commissioner Brainerd, every driver is eligible to enter provided he is not included in one of the following categories:

The Reckless Ones, who don't pay attention to traffic laws.

The Foolish Ones, who don't allow themselves enough time to complete their trip safely.

The Careless Ones, who ignore road, weather, and traffic conditions.

The Childish Ones, who can't keep their minds on their driving, and

The Crazy Ones, who mix driving and drinking.

To be a winner, motorists must be alive on January 2, 1964. The others won't be around anyway, so stay away from them. Any one of them can keep you from making that all-important appearance on January 2. Any one of them can kill your chances of receiving that very valuable gift—your life.

The holidays bring out the best in people and holiday driving brings out the worst. So, to keep your date with LIFE on January 2, be on the alert for the careless, the reckless, the foolish, the crazy, and the childish.

Don't let them cross you off the gift list.

The following editorial was published in a recent edition of the Daily Eagle at Claremont, N. H.

"The Gettysburg Times did not realize when it put out its fine centenary issue on November 19, 1963, just how tragically timely that issue would be.

"Its 32 pages, keyed to Lincoln's Gettysburg Address delivered exactly 100 years before that date, features a remarkable collection of special material, including photographs of the era.

"Included also, to the pleasure of antiquarians, are photographic reproductions of pages from the two weekly newspapers published in Gettysburg in 1863, the Adams Sentinel and General Advertiser and the Compiler.

"Each of these carried the text of the President's address, versions which differ radically, it might be noted. Neither carried the full text of the Hon. Edward Everett's two-hour address, though both printed abstracts.

"But timeliness of the issue lies not in these commemorative features. It lies in the detailed accounts of Lincoln's subsequent assassination, the trial and execution of the plotters against his life, even a painting of the deathbed scene.

"And all of this was published just three days short of the day when another President, John F. Kennedy, was assassinated in Texas.

"Charlotte Rollins, who shares our interest in the Civil War era, loaned us her Gettysburg centenary issue, which she had cagily ordered in advance. Maybe, if you'll promise to treat it with special care, she'll loan it to you."

In Trouble With Game Laws Again

Irvin R. Strausbaugh, 19, Hanover R. 5, Wednesday was placed in the York County jail for 134 days when he was unable to pay a $125 fine and $9 costs after he pleaded guilty to removing a doe deer from the state game propagation area at the Sheppard-Myers impounding dam, near Hanover, Tuesday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. A companion defendant, Earl Neiderer, 21, Hanover R. 4, pleaded guilty and paid the $134 fine and costs on a similar charge.

Strausbaugh was one of four men who were charged November 26 with illegal hunting on the R. H. Sheppard farm, Hanover R. 4, Union Twp. The charge was brought by Game Protector Homer H. Thrush, who said that Strausbaugh had been arrested in December, 1962, for removing an untaged deer from the same farm.

Strausbaugh pleaded guilty to the November charge of using a vehicle for hunting, on which he paid a fine of $50 and costs. He also paid a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of having a loaded rifle in his automobile.

Seven In Caravan Hacked To Death

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Seven members of a caravan of Moslem priests and religious helpers were shot and hacked to death by Karen rebels near Moulmein, reports from the scene said today.

Government troops rushed to the area and in a battle with the rebels killed 10 of them. Five soldiers were killed.

The 41-man religious party had been touring villages around Moulmein, 200 miles southeast of Rangoon.

The rebels are believed to be long to the National Democratic United Front which is aligned with the Communist underground. Peace talks between the front and the government were broken off last month.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union has the second greatest navy in the world behind the United States, but the Russian fleet "has a new look which must have a profound effect on naval thinking," the 1963-64 edition of the authoritative Jane's Fighting Ships reported today.

"The Soviet naval watchwords seem to be intelligence, infiltration and interception," the leading western survey of the navies of the world commented.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

G. Henry Roth Will Command
Sons of Vets: G. Henry Roth, first vice commander, was elected commander of the Gettysburg camp, Sons of Union Veterans, at the regular meeting and election of officers Friday evening at the post home, East Middle street. He succeeds T. J. Winebrenner.

Dr. Joseph H. Riley was elected senior vice commander to succeed Roth, and the Rev. Willis R. Doyle was chosen junior vice commander in place of Dr. Riley.

There's A Chance — Not Too Good — For White Christmas: If Gettysburg weather records of past Decembers are to be taken as an indication of what may be expected this year, there is a fair chance this community may have a white Christmas — but it isn't nearly as good a chance as it was 40 years ago.

And if the present trend of winter snowfalls in this area continues, the chances for snows in December will grow less promising.

The local weather records show that not many Christmas days in recent years have seen snowfalls. In 1945, two inches of snow fell on December 25 and there was a trace of snow on Christmas Day in 1938. Christmas, 1924, had about a quarter inch of snow and the year before that there was a trace of snow that day. The biggest Christmas snowfall on record here was in 1909 when eight inches fell.

But in 1912 there was a white Christmas for on December 24 that year, 10 inches of snow fell. So the kids, and the storekeepers with sleds to sell, have some reason to look hopefully for a blanket of white by Christmas Day while older folks and motorists who are not nearly as enthusiastic about the possibility of snow may come through December without using snow shovels.

General "Ike" Remembers
Hotel: George F. Eberhart, Eberhart apartments, who recently sent a copy of "Treat 'Em Rough," a news sheet published at Camp Colt, Gettysburg, during World War I, to General Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia university, has received an acknowledgment from the former commander in chief of allied forces in Europe in World War II. General Eisenhower was commanding officer of Camp Colt.

"Most certainly I remember the Eagle hotel at Gettysburg, which I note is advertised in the copy of 'Treat 'Em Rough' you have sent me," Eisenhower wrote. "I thank you for this souvenir of Camp Colt; it will have an honored place in my personal library."

Mr. Eberhart's father formerly operated the Eagle hotel, now the Adams house.

55th Anniversary Marked By Couple: Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Scott, 444 Baltimore street, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Sunday at a family dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carbaugh, Steinwehr avenue.

Their three children, five grandchildren and a few friends were among those present. An arrangement of 55 candles formed the centerpiece for the dinner table. The couple received a number of presents.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Scott enjoy good health. Mr. Scott is 77 and his wife 79. They were married at the home of Mrs. Scott's parents on Breckenridge street by the late Rev. Hugh Gilchrist, then pastor of the local Presbyterian church. Mr. Scott farmed in Freedom township for the greater part of his life. They moved to Gettysburg about 10 years ago.

DIVINE DISCONTENT

Satisfied people are usually very dull; at least they are far from being interesting. Discontent is always a healthy sign in an individual or a nation. There are two sorts of discontent, however — one destructive and one constructive. The latter is the only one that should interest anyone.

Every advance in life can be traced to this constructive discontent. There is a great deal being written and spoken about the "Century of the Common Man." A study of history will prove how effective has been the discontent of the common man — and it has been to this that he has advanced and gained the high place that he enjoys today. Yet a higher place awaits him!

Discontent means growing pains — a reaching out for something better and happier. It means healthy change. A study of that book "Who's Who" will enlighten anyone. The story of men who have risen from humble origin is a continuous one. Dissatisfied with the small job — and a determination to rise higher. Discontent has built every free country and set it apart as an example to all others.

It has been said of that noted artist Alphonse Legros, the Frenchman who died in 1911, that he destroyed more masterpieces than most artists ever create. Beautiful examples of his etched art exist in only a few copies because he destroyed so many of his plates. He was forever seeking to improve what he had previously done.

I recall a book that was published with writings from authors who were asked to name what they consider their "best." It appeared as a difficult task, for so many felt that they had not yet produced their best!

Imagine what literature, science, the arts, or any branch of human endeavor, would be like if people were not forever discontented with what they had already achieved. It is a sure sign of progress if people are discontented — never satisfied.

Just Folks

CURIOUS MAN
Tis curious what men believe
And what they seem to doubt,
What strange professions they'll receive,
What truths they'll order out.
Advise your friend to progress slow
To methods that endure,
Counsel the longer way to go
The end of which is sure.

And though from him you seek no gain,
But wish to serve his need,
And would from folly him restrain,
To you he'll pay no heed.

But let a glib-tongued stranger call
With methods black as pitch,
Who smiling says: "Now, first of all,
I've come to make you rich."

"You're one of just a chosen few
This ground-floor buy to share,
This little deal will make of you
A multi-millionaire."

Deaf to the friends who whisper low
That flatterers deceive,
Straight to the dotted line he'll go
And stuff like that believe.

CELTICS EDGE

KNICKS AGAIN

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The Celtics are a darn good team without Bill Russell and a great one with him.

The sentiments are those of Boston's former National Basketball Association star, Bill Sharman.

The Celtics lived up to it on Thursday night by surviving a 49-point fourth quarter by the Knicks and still beating New York 143-140 without Russell, the perennial NBA Most Valuable Player.

The defending league champs also were operating without injured Frank Ramsey.

Russell watched the Celtics win their ninth straight on the neutral Providence court, confined to street clothes by a pulled thigh muscle suffered on the last play of the victory over the Knicks Wednesday night in Boston. Russell will not be able to play in New York Saturday night.

Clyde Lovellette moved into center for Russell and contributed 20 points Thursday night. Sam Jones led the parade with 36, Johnny Havlicek added 32, while Tommy Heinsohn and Tom Sanders had 22 apiece.

BLOCKADE OF EMBASSY GONE

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet police lifted their blockade of Ghana's embassy today as the indignation of African students over the death of a fellow student appeared to simmer down. Ghana's ambassador, John B. Elliot, asked police protection Thursday to prevent further damage to the embassy resulting from anti-Soviet demonstrations by the students.

Some 500 Africans, most of them from Ghana, stormed into Red Square Wednesday to protest the death of 29-year-old Edmund Asare-Addo of Ghana, a medical student. The students said he had been stabbed to death by a Russian because he wanted to marry a Russian girl.

FROZEN TO DEATH
The Soviet government said he had frozen to death after getting drunk. His body was found in a field outside Moscow last Friday.

Before their march through Moscow, the students massed at the embassy. A large number went inside, damaging chairs, pictures and locks, Elliot said.

During the blockade, all approaches to the building were sealed off. Only persons with appointments at the embassy were permitted through the police line.

Elliot said he had received a Soviet autopsy report on the dead student. He said it was still being translated.

Detroit Rookie Gets 1st Shutout

DETROIT (AP)—Two youngsters have played prominent roles in the Detroit Red Wings' recent surge in the National Hockey League.

Roger Crozier, playing his fifth game as a goalie in the NHL, attained his first shutout Thursday night as the Red Wings beat the Boston Bruins 3-0 in the only league game played.

The victory extended Detroit's unbeaten streak to five games.

STATES URGED TO LIST VOTING AGE DOWN TO 18

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential commission recommended today that all states consider dropping the minimum age for voters to 18 and called for eliminating poll taxes and literacy tests as qualifications for voting.

President Johnson called the 11-member commission to the White House to present its report, ordered in March by John F. Kennedy.

The group, labeled the President's Commission on Registration and Voting participation, was scathing in its denunciation of what it considered roadblocks to voting.

OPPOSE POLL TAX
For example, in recommending that the poll tax be eliminated as a prerequisite for voting, it said:

"No American should have to buy his right to vote in any election."

The commission chairman, Census Director Richard M. Scammon, told reporters the recommendation applied to state and federal elections.

Cited as the major argument for 18-year-old voting was the belief that, by the time young people reach 21, they are "so far removed from the stimulation of the educational process that their interest in public affairs has waned."

The report lamented "the low voter participation of the age group from 21 to 30." It surmised that many young people never acquire the voting habit because they fail to start voting right after graduation from high school.

George and Kentucky now are the only states which allow 18-year-olds to vote. The age minimum is 19 in Alaska and 20 in Hawaii and 21 in the other 46 states.

Battlefield Cage Tourney Brings Together Old Rivals Here On Dec. 27 and 28

Two old basketball rivals will return to the Gettysburg College campus December 27 and 28 to take part in the first annual Battlefield Tournament.

Absent from the cage scene for many years has been Mt. St. Mary's College of Emmitsburg, and American University of Washington, D. C. Gettysburg and the Mount had carried on an enthusiastic rivalry from 1912 to 1964 when the series was ended abruptly due to over enthusiastic student bodies. During that long period, the two close schools battled 53 times with the Bullets holding a 34-19 edge in the win column.

American U. returns to the Gettysburg court for the first time since the 1927-28 season. It was during that year that the Eagles helped Gettysburg inaugurate the opening of Eddie Plank Memorial gym. The Bullets, under the then first year coach Hen Bream, won 40-30. American captured the first contest in the series in 1926, but the following two decisions went to the Bullets. The two teams have not faced each other since the 1928-29 campaign.

The third team entered in the Christmas tourney is Westminster of New Wilmington. The Bullets and Titans first met in 1922 and did not see each other again until last season when Westminster captured a 75-36 verdict. Gettysburg and Westminster are scheduled to meet later this season in New Wilmington.

MSM GOING WELL

Mt. St. Mary's will enter the tourney with a 5-2 record on the current season, winning its last four contests. Coach Jim Phelan's Mountaineers have defeated Shepherd, Susquehanna, Catholic University, Baltimore and Roanoke. The two setbacks have come at the hands of St. Joseph's and American U.

Coach Jim Williams' American University Eagles are currently 1-4 on the season among the intercollegiate ranks. The lone victory was a 55-54 decision over the Mount. The Eagles have been dealt losses by Duquesne, Bucknell, Georgetown and Temple. American will tangle with Stetson tonight and Army on Monday before entering the tournament.

Westminster has a 4-2 slate after Thursday's 54-52 win over Wittenberg. Coach "Buzz" Ridd's Titans defeated Alliance, Geneva and Malone and the two losses came against strong opponents in the Steel Bowl in Pittsburgh. Westminster lost the opening round of the Bowl to Duquesne 75-55 and the following night lost the consolation to George Washington 87-36 in overtime.

Coach Bob Hulton's host Gettysburg College team has been finding the road rocky so far this season. The Bullets dropped their first three outings to St. Joseph's, Albright and Navy, but snapped back to defeat Bucknell and Johns Hopkins in the last two contests.

TOURNEY SCHEDULE

The first round of the Battlefield Tournament will pit Mt. St. Mary's against Westminster in the 7:30 o'clock engagement while Gettysburg tangles with American U. in the 9 p.m. clash.

Losers of Friday night's games will meet Saturday at 7:30 in the consolation while the winners will meet at 9 for the tournament title.

KILLEBREW IS TOP SLUGGER; BEATS MANTLE

BOSTON (AP) — Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew won the American League slugging crown last season with a .555 average, ending the two-year reign of Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

The final official averages released today revealed that Killebrew, runner-up to Mantle in 1962, collected 286 total bases in 515 times at bat in 1963.

Bob Allison, another hard-hitting Minnesota outfielder, was second last season with a .533 mark followed by Elston Howard of the Yanks, the circuit's most valuable player, .528. Dick Stuart of Boston and Jimmie Hall, Minnesota rookie, tied for fourth at .521.

Mantle captured the slugging championship in 1961 with .687 and in 1962 with .605. Last season, he slugged .622, but appeared in only 65 games with 217 plate appearances because of injuries. To be eligible for the slugging title a player must compile a minimum of 502 plate appearances, including official times at bat, bases on balls, sacrifices and hit by pitches.

CAPTAIN OF TENNIS TEAM HAS TROUBLES

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—"To take a job as Davis Cup captain, you either have to be loaded with money or be a complete idiot," Bob Kelleher said today, "and I assure you, I don't fit the money category."

It may seem glamorous to be leading the cream of American court talent in quest of the most important prize in tennis but to Kelleher, 50, a tall, personable Los Angeles attorney, it is one series of pressures and headaches after another.

The heaviest pressure comes next Thursday when the U.S. captain sends a pair of unpredictable college kids — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston — against the Australians, who have won the trophy for 11 of the past 13 years.

"I am not complaining — I went into this with my eyes open and I am determined to see it through," Kelleher said, "but I don't think anyone realizes what this thing entails."

"I now have been on the road with the team for close on four months while my law practice back in Los Angeles has been gathering cobwebs. EMERGENCIES, TOO

"I have had to be a combination travel agent, booking agent, public relations expert, ambassador, chaperon, teacher and amateur psychologist."

The problems are compounded unforeseen emergencies. During the present trip Kelleher has had to call in 24 doctors.

Frank Froehling needed an operation for an abscess. Chuck McKinley hurt his back again.

Ralston had blisters on his racket hand. The whole team turned up with diarrhea in India.

They are all fit now.

SHARE COURT SCORING LEAD

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Williams of Maryland State and Gary Prestesater of Azusa State share the individual scoring lead among the nation's small college basketball players, according to the season's first NCAA statistical ratings released today.

Each has an average of 39.3 points a game, through games of Dec. 14, but Williams gets top billing because he has played in more games, seven. Prestesater has played in four.

They top a list of 10 small college players averaging 30 points or more a game. Among the major college players, nine are averaging 30 or more, led by Howard Komives of Bowling Green at 35.5.

Rick Barry, Miami, Fla., is second among the major college players with an average of 34.3 and Fred Crawford of St. Bonaventure is third at 33.5.

Virginia Tech won its first Southern Conference football title in its history last season.

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer College basketball's merry whirl of Christmas tournaments, a holiday delight to followers of the sport, gets started in earnest tonight.

The big one is the UK Invitational at Lexington, Ky. where the host Kentucky Wildcats, second-ranked nationally, meet Wisconsin of the Big Ten. In the other first round game the Ivy League champion, Princeton and its heralded Bill Bradley, tangles with Wake Forest of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

BLUEBONNET CLASSIC

Then there is the Sun Devils Classic at Tempe, Ariz., the Virginia Tech Invitational at Blacksburg, Va. and the Arkansas State Invitational at Jonesboro. At Tempe, it will be Michigan State vs. California and Arizona State vs. Oklahoma. At Blacksburg, Maryland meets Tennessee and Virginia Tech takes on Louisiana State. At Jonesboro, Tulane is paired against Texas Western and William and Mary against Arkansas State.

The Bluebonnet Classic at Houston, actually not a tournament, Duke's 84-73 victory over Virginia, Wichita's 71-65 defeat of Minnesota and New Mexico's 59-54 conquest of Kansas highlighted a comparatively slim national program Thursday night. Duke's No. 5 Blue Devils were only team in The Associated Press top ten to see action. Jeff Mullins, who wound up with a total of 30, threw in eight straight points that thwarted a second half Virginia rally that had cut an 18-point Duke lead to three at 49-46.

TONIGHT'S BILL

The Bluebonnet, a two-night doubleheader series, turned out just as if it were a tournament. Houston beat Mississippi State 69-61 and Oklahoma City downed Texas A&M 80-70. Tonight Houston meets Oklahoma City and Miss. State meets Texas A&M, pairings that had been determined some time ago.

Wichita, continuing its comeback after dropping out of the top ten last week, got some hot outside shooting from Dave Leach to defeat Minnesota. He led the Wheatshockers with 21 points, one of the few times Dave Stallworth hasn't been high. Mel Northway led the Gophers with 23.

A sellout 6,437 at Albuquerque cheered the unbeaten New Mexico Lobos as they turned back Kansas for their seventh straight.

KEEP SLATE CLEAN

Utah also kept its slate clean with a 102-71 romp against Washington State for its sixth in a row. Marquette whipped Iowa State 67-62, Illinois defeated Butler 74-53, Texas Tech took Auburn 83-71, Texas Western overcame Tennessee Tech 64-48 and New Orleans Loyola humbled Georgetown, D.C. 92-78.

In the East, Rhode Island upset St. John's, N.Y., 74-65 and Trinity surprised Harvard 74-72. Eastern Kentucky whipped Syracuse 90-72, Boston Univ. defeated Seton Hall 79-63, Boston College downed Colby 97-80 and Assumption, Mass. trampled Los Angeles State 97-76.

LOWE CHOSEN COMEBACK OF YEAR IN AFL

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Only Paul Lowe and his coach knew until today that the flashy San Diego Charger halfback fractured a leg in the first regular game of this season.

"But I was determined not to let it keep me out," Lowe declared after making the disclosure in an interview.

He had been asked how he felt about being chosen the American Football League's Comeback Player of the Year by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters.

"DEEPLY HONORED"

"It's a pretty inspiring thing," he replied, "as inspiring, I'd say as being named Player of the Year. I am deeply honored."

He said he was also pleased that his teammate, veteran quarterback Tobin Rote, had been named Player of the Year. Lowe, who makes great use of his speed and agility, was out of action all last season because of a broken arm that required surgery to mend.

HAIRLINE FRACTURE This year it was the leg that threatened to put him on the shelf again.

He said a hairline fracture was discovered in his left leg after the opening game with Buffalo Sept. 2.

BML Leaders Host Greyhounds Tonight

Gettysburg High School's unbeaten varsity basketball team will seek its fifth victory here tonight when it tangles with second-place Shippensburg (3-1) in an important Blue Mountain League game. MARIS TAKES $10,000 CUT BUT HE SIGNS

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that Roger Maris, normally a reluctant dragon, was in the New York fold for the 1964 season, Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk said today he was eager to sign Mickey Mantle, the other half of the M&M slugging duo.

"I haven't talked to Mickey yet," said Houk Thursday after he disclosed that Maris had agreed to accept a "reasonable" cut from his top $72,000 salary. "But I hope to before I leave for a brief vacation Christmas Day."

Mantle reportedly has fully recovered from a knee operation last October, and has been taking daily exercises to strengthen the leg and keep from adding excess weight.

"VERY FAIR" Mantle earned $100,000 last year. It is doubtful if he will be asked to take a cut as was Maris. While no salary terms were announced, it is believed Rog accepted a $10,000 cut.

"I told Roger my ideas of what his contract should be," said Houk, "and he went right along. He was very fair about it."

Maris, who hit a record breaking 61 home runs in 1961, was plagued by injuries throughout the 1963 season. He appeared in only 90 games, batted .269 with 23 home runs and only 53 runs batted in. The 29-year-old slugger led the American League with 142 RBI in '61, when he won the league's Most Valuable Player Award for the second consecutive season.

Maris admitted it was the first time he had ever been asked to take a cut since he came to the big leagues in 1957. Next season will be Roger's fifth with the Yankees. He was 29 last Sept. 10.

GRIFFITH TO FIGHT CARTER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Emile Griffith, the welterweight champion who wants to be middleweight king, steps into the ring tonight against Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, who also has title aspirations.

Griffith, named fighter of the year by the boxing writers association, is a slight favorite in the scheduled 10-round non-title bout, which will be nationally televised.

The winner will be in a strong contending position for a crack at middleweight champion Joey Giardello.

Carter, 26, of Paterson, N.J., the No. 2-ranked middleweight, is not dismayed by the fact he is the underdog or because his opponent is a champion.

"I'm going to beat Griffith by a knockout," he said. "No welterweight has any business in the ring with me."

Griffith, 24, of New York, left little doubt of what he thinks the outcome will be. "When I beat Rubin I want to fight for the (middleweight) title," he said.

Hounds Meet Warriors Here This Evening

Unbeaten Gettysburg High School's cagers go after their fifth consecutive victory tonight when they meet Shippensburg here in another important Blue Mountain League game. Shippensburg is 3-1 in the league and in a four-way tie for second place.

Another top BML contest is slated for Biglerville where the Cannons, also involved in the second place tie, entertain Susquehanna.

Both games, which will be preceded by junior varsity games at 6:45, are expected to draw big crowds.

In the Adams-Franklin League Greencastle plays at New Oxford, Littlestown at Fannett-Metal, and Fairfield at James Buchanan.

Completing the scholastic program will be the Kennard-Dale-Delone scrap at McSherrystown.

MARINES IN TITLE GAME ONCE AGAIN

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — The Quantico Marines will be upholding a record of having never missed the title game in their annual Christmas invitational basketball tournament when they meet Austin Peay of Clarksville, Tenn., tonight for the 1963 championship.

The Marines have been in every championship game since the tournament started in 1954. The only time they didn't win the title was in 1957, when Providence College took the crown.

It took an eight-point outburst late in the game Thursday night however, to move Quantico past previously unbeaten Capital University of Ohio 76-72 in the semifinals. Austin Peay defeated West Chester (Pa.) State, 74-65, in the other semifinal game.

Capital and West Chester will meet for third place tonight before the Quantico - Austin Peay game.

CONSOLATION GAME

This afternoon Randolph-Macon plays Ohio Northern for the championship of the consolation bracket, or fifth place in the tournament, after Philadelphia Textile plays King's (Pa.) College for seventh place.

Randolph-Macon defeated Philadelphia Textile, 89-84, and Ohio Northern beat King's, 78-73, in Thursday's consolation game.

Austin Peay and West Chester were tied eight times, but the Tennessee team pulled away after West Chester rebounding star Bill Hintze fouled out with 6:50 remaining. Doug Stamper led Austin Peay with 27 points and Dick Kratz was tops for West Chester with 23.

Ohio Northern also had to fight off a late rally by King's College. The Ohio team led 62-47 with 6:55 left. King's then scored eight straight points but couldn't catch up. Sophomore Tom Hamm of King's led all scorers with 26 points. Bobby Woods led Ohio Northern with 21.

NAVY SCOUT RATES TEXAS "VERY SOUND"

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The man who sizes up Navy football opponents and helps find ways to beat them says No. 1-ranked Texas is one of the most fundamentally sound teams he has ever seen.

Steve Belichick, assistant coach and chief scout, said he would rate the Longhorns with the 1960 Washington team which Navy upset 15-14, Army's 1958 team and "the Tennessee teams of Gen. (Robert) Neyland's heyday" as the best in his memory.

"This is a team that stands out," Belichick told newsmen at Navy Thursday. "From a fundamental point of view, they do anything — except possibly punting — as well as any team I ever saw."

SAW FINAL GAME

Belichick saw unbeaten Texas in its season finale against Texas A&M, when second-ranked Navy felt it would be going to the Cotton Bowl, and he has been dissecting the films of six Texas games for the Navy coaching staff and players.

"They block well and they rarely miss a tackle," Belichick said. "You don't see them busting signals, jumping offside or in motion. Their penalties are at a minimum."

"They control the ball and they move it. Their basic offense is the old Don Faurot and Bud Wilkinson split-T, with a few refinements, and they run it better than those two masters."

This will be quite a test for Navy's offense, which hasn't failed to score less than three or more touchdowns per game, Belichick believes.

BARONS WHIP QUEBEC 3 TO 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Cleveland Barons, humiliated 6-1 at Quebec just a couple of days ago, bounced back with a quick - striking vengeance Thursday night and spoiled the bid of the on-rushing Aces to close up in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division race.

The Barons broke a tie with two goals less than a minute apart late in the first period last night, then held on for a 3-1 victory in the only AHL game scheduled. Quebec, which had a chance to close to within one point of leading Providence, remained three points back while Cleveland edged to within four of Eastern leader Pittsburgh.

Cleveland's Joe Szura broke the 1-1 tie with his second goal of the game, a power play marker at 18:17 of the first period. Only 58 seconds later Wayne Larkin added another Cleveland goal.

Bob Blackburn got Quebec's lone goal, which was sandwiched between Szura's two goals.

LIBERTY BOWL PROBLEMS ARE BUILDING UP

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer The Liberty Bowl's troubles are legion—ranging from weather to finances to threats of boycott. But the problems don't extend to football.

North Carolina State and Mississippi State, two of the nation's best college teams, will take care of that end of it. They're scheduled to play in Philadelphia's vast, 102,000 seat Philadelphia Stadium Saturday in the fifth and perhaps last Liberty Bowl.

Bowl promoter Bud Dudley predicts a crowd of only 10,000, which entails a personal financial licking of about $20,000 for him. The game is scheduled for national television coverage over NBC as the collegians hit full stride in the post-season activity.

OTHER SATURDAY GAME

Other Saturday games include the North-South at Miami and Baylor and Louisiana State in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Tex.

The Gator Bowl, Blue-Gray, East-West Shrine game and Tangerine Bowl are scheduled the following Saturday, Dec. 28; the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Dec. 31, and the Cotton, Orange, Sugar and Rose Bowls New Year's Day.

Dudley, the Liberty promoter, has taken a financial licking on each of the five bowl games and it's doubtful that he'll try again.

NAACP OPPOSITION

In addition to the difficulties he has had trying to sell two Southern teams — even though they're among the best — to Philadelphia, he has had the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in opposition. They've threatened to picket the stadium because of Mississippi State's involvement.

And, too, there's the weather. The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts temperatures in the 20's at game time. Philadelphia Stadium is ringed with snow.

On the field, however, the attraction is top-notch. North Carolina State, coached by Earle Edwards, came through with an 8-2 record and runner-up in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Because of its rougher schedule, Mississippi State ranks a 6½-point favorite.

Baylor holds a thin edge as a 1½-point choice in the Bluebonnet, primarily because of the passing wizardry of Don Trull. The Bears and LSU each has a 7-3 record and have played four common opponents.

The North-South game, which features the passing of Miami's George Mira vs. the pass-run threat of Boston College's Jack Concannon, also is scheduled for national television coverage, over ABC. A crowd of about 44,000 was expected.

Referee—Warren Maurer.

NEW YORK (AP)—The secret of beating Sid Gillman is to work for him first as an assistant coach. Jack Faulkner and Al Davis are 5-0 against their old boss in American Football League competition.

Now it is Faulkner's turn to try again with Gillman's San Diego Chargers needing to win or tie their finale with Denver to clinch the Western Division title.

If Faulkner upsets Gillman again, San Diego will fall right into the same trap. A San Diego defeat and an Oakland victory over Houston in Sunday's final game would set up a tie playoff between Gillman and Davis's Raiders. The name of the game is Beat the Boss.

FAULKNER BEAT GILLMAN twice last year and thumped his Chargers 50-34 early this season. Davis beat Sid twice 34-33 and 41-27 since he took over as boss man at Oakland.

All of which sets up an interesting final weekend of the AFL season. The National Football League season ended last week but the AFL season carried over an extra week because they did not play on the weekend of President Kennedy's assassination

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Nog, as Santa Claus, went off to Santa Land to prepare a dreadful Christmas. The children rushed to help Santa, now an old woman, and Jeremy decided the charm should be broken.

CHAPTER 16 VISIT TO THE FAIRY QUEEN

Sana took Jeremy's small hand in his shaking fingers. "Only the Queen Fairy can break the charm," he said. "And Fairyland is far away. I am too decrepit to get there." "C-could I get there?" asked Jeremy.

"You can," said Santa, "If you believe you can."

"Oh, I do!" declared Jeremy. "I do, too!" exclaimed Sissy. "Me, too," chimed in Miss Jo. "Then go," said Santa. "Go as fast as you can to the very end of Burning Tree Road. Turn left on Little Branch Trail. When you come to the fork, take 3 giant steps down Red Cow Path. There you will find a chestnut tree. Where the second branch meets the trunk there is a hole and in the hole there is a bottle. Take one sip each from the bottle."

"Is that all?" asked Jeremy. "That is all. Only hurry, for time is very short."

"Take three giant steps down Red Cow Path. There you will find a chestnut tree."

The children raced away and did all they had been told. But when they came at last to the chestnut tree the lowest branch was too high for Jeremy to reach.

He shimmied up the trunk but just as he was about to reach the branch he lost his grip and crashed to the ground, cutting his lip and knocking out a tooth.

He put the tooth in his pocket and got on his hands and knees. "Climb on my back," he told Sissy. Sissy did and then Miss Jo wiggled up both of them until she was high enough to reach the first branch. She got to the second branch and there was a hole where it joined the trunk and in the hole was a tiny blue bottle.

She climbed down with the bottle and all three children took a sip from it. Hardly had they swallowed than they fell on the ground in a heap and went fast asleep.

When they awoke they were in a marble palace. The floors were covered with gold carpet. Columns, so big three people couldn't put their arms around them, stretched to ceiling that seemed half a mile away. Wreaths of holly decorated the walls and there was a giant Christmas tree, glittering with stars, in the center of the room. A 50-piece orchestra sat at the side of the room. As the children gazed in wonder, the orchestra struck up and a host of fairy creatures strolled into the room and began to dance.

The most beautiful creature of all clapped her hands. The music stopped and the beautiful one said, "It is now past 12 and Christmas Eve. I, the Fairy Queen declare that we shall feast and dance for two whole days and nights and this will be the gayest Christmas ever!"

Everyone cheered but before the music could start again Jeremy plunged through the crowd. "Oh, your majesty, you've got to do something quickly!" he cried.

The Queen looked at him in astonishment as he blurted out the whole story of how Nog was Santa now and Santa was an old woman in the Haunted House and it was up to the Queen to break the charm.

"You must break it right away," finished Jeremy, "or it will be too late."

The Queen turned pale and her hands fluttered wildly. "Yes, yes," she moaned. "But there are three things I must have to break the charm; something gold, something pearl and something invisible."

"Done!" said the Prince at her side. "There are plenty such things around."

"But you see," said the Queen. "They must be real and not things from fairyland at all."

"Then we are lost," cried the prince. "For there is no time to search these things down."

Then all the fairy creatures sorrowed and the Queen was the most sorrowful of all.

4 SOLDIERS ARE CONVICTED IN FLIER'S DEATH

EVREUX, France (AP) — A U.S. Army court-martial convicted three American soldiers—two Negroes and a white—today in the death of an airman in a fight between soldiers and airmen at the Evreux Air Force Base.

The Negroes, Pvt. Richard L. Parker Jr. of Eckman, W. Va., and Pfc. Edward Spears of New York, were convicted of unpremeditated murder and assault.

The third soldier, Pfc. Alan L. Gernard of New York, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and attempted assault.

They were to be sentenced later today.

Airman 1C Robert Padgett of Woodlawn, Va., was fatally injured Sept. 6 after a group of soldiers invaded an airmen's barracks on the base.

COURT OF EIGHT

The court was made up of five officers and three enlisted men.

Five Negro soldiers and Gernard, were accused of taking part in the soldiers' attack on the Air Force barracks.

In a previous trial, Pfc. Raymond C. Bost Jr., of Pittsburgh, was convicted of unpremeditated murder and assault and sentenced to 15 years in prison. Pfc. Robert Burrell of Philadelphia was given 12 years on the same charges.

The trial of Pfc. Franklin D. Waddell of Philadelphia on a

4 Guardsmen Are Charged With Setting Off Blasts Near Negro's Dormitory

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Four Alabama National Guardsmen have been charged with touching off minor explosions near the University of Alabama while on federal duty to uphold court-ordered desegregation of the school.

Authorities say more arrests are expected.

Three blasts occurred last month—two Nov. 16 and one Nov. 19. All were near a dormitory housing Negro student Vivian Malone, who was admitted under federal court orders along with James A. Hood in June. Hood later withdrew.

NO ONE INJURED

The men arrested Thursday were with the last units still on duty after President Kennedy federalized the entire Alabama Guard during a showdown with Gov. George Wallace.

All troops were demobilized Nov. 20, the day after the last explosion. No one was hurt in any of the explosions.

The men were rounded up during the late afternoon and night. The first man arrested was 2nd Lt. James T. Perkins, 27, of Holt, Ala., a suburb of Tuscaloosa. He later posted $5,000 bond.

Police identified two of the others as Sgt. Norman R. Daniel of Fairfield, Ala., a suburb of Birmingham, and Cpl. James T. Maxwell, 27, of Tuscaloosa. Maxwell also posted bond.

The name of the fourth man was not available immediately.

MOTIVE NOT KNOWN

Perkins and Maxwell were charged with the first Nov. 16 detonation. The warrant against them said they set off dynamite or some other explosive in or near the home of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. who lives close to Mary Burke Hall, where Miss Malone lives.

Daniel is charged with the Nov. 19 blast, which occurred about three blocks from the dormitory.

Perkins, contacted at home after he posted bond, said: "I can't think right to comment at this time."

Authorities declined to speculate about the motive for the bombings.

Broadway Plays Feature Court

NEW YORK (AP) — A courtroom drama by Henry Denker has the early-season Broadway record for title changes.

Based on part of Louis Nizer's best seller, "My Life in Court," the play was first labelled "Libel!" then "Slander!" again as "Libel and Slander!" Now the sponsors vow its permanent name is "A Case of Libel."

Sermon For The Week

By REV. OTTO KROEGER

Pastor, Zion Lutheran Church

READY FOR CHRISTMAS?

If you think you are ready for Christmas, ponder the words of Alice Hansche Mortenson who writes:

"Ready for Christmas," she said with a sigh,
As she gave a last touch to the gifts piled high.

Then wearily sat for a moment and read
Till soon, very soon, she was nodding her head.

Then quietly spoke a voice in her dream:
"Ready for Christmas! What do you mean?"

Ready for Christmas, when only last week
You wouldn't acknowledge your friend on the street!

"Ready for Christmas, while holding a grudge!
Perhaps you had better let God be the judge.

Why, how can the Christ Child come and abide
In a heart that is selfish and filled with pride?

"Ready for Christmas, when only today
A beggar lad came and you turned him away
Without even a smile to show that you cared!

The little he asked—it could have been spared.
"Ready for Christmas! You've worked, it is true.

But just doing the things you wanted to do.
Ready for Christmas. Your circle's too small.

Why you are not ready for Christmas at all!"
She awoke with a start, and a cry of despair,

"There's so little time, and I've still to prepare!
Oh, Father, forgive me, I see what you mean;
To be ready means more than a house swept clean!"

Yes, more than the giving of gifts and a tree
It's the heart swept clean that He wants to see

A heart that is free from bitterness—sin,
Ready for Christmas—and ready for Him!

All too quickly many of us are ready to condemn the innkeeper for turning Mary and Joseph back with the excuse of "No room."

Unfortunately it takes some sharp words like that of the poet to awaken us to the reality that we are all like the innkeeper in saying "No room" to Christ. We are so busy making ready for Christmas that we have no room for Christ. As a result the sad portion of the Christmas story is perpetuated in the hearts of each of us and it spells tragedy. If Christmas is to take on its real depth for us, then Christ must be born once again in our hearts. Let Him come into your heart that through sin so closely resembles the stench of that first Christmas, that your heart may become a radiant receptacle and an unending well of God's glorious love.

God bless you and yours this Christmas. Amen.

On the holy night, the Christ child was born to an unknown carpenter and his wife in Bethlehem.

No palace physician attended the Prince of Peace — perhaps a mid-wife or a serving maid.

No fine linens were prepared for the mother; no crib for the Babe—just the straw and the manger were theirs.

No royal salute was fired to announce His arrival — only the braying of the animals in their stalls was heard.

Never was royalty greeted with less pomp and circumstance.

Why? Because man could not raise himself to God!

So God sent His Son to light up our hearts and minds with His Divine Presence.

His living Spirit brightened the most ordinary and commonplace tasks of the day.

If He could so hallow that stable, can He not hallow our homes, our places of work, the whole of our lives?

Of course! Consider again and again the miracle of His birth. Be in church on Christmas to welcome anew the Christ child in your heart.

Happy Xmas Reunions Are Taking Place In W. Berlin

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN (AP)—A great and joyful Christmas reunion was in full swing today as West Berliners streamed through the Communist wall to meet relatives in East Berlin for the first time in 28 months.

More than 1,000 persons had passed through the five crossing points in the wall some three hours after East German border guards lifted the steel, candy-striped barriers an hour ahead of schedule.

More than 30,000 West Berliners are expected to make the trip today. Officials estimate that as many as 800,000 may visit relatives in the East before midnight Jan. 5, when the Christmas crossings end.

"SHOOT TO KILL"

East German guards, who still have orders to shoot to kill if any East Berliner tries to escape to the West, were extremely courteous and West Berliners passed through the controls rapidly.

Contrary to expectations, there were no queues at the grim concrete wall as dawn broke over the snow-covered city.

Clutching the precious one-day permits issued by the Communists after long and tough negotiations with the West Berlin city government, men, women and children passed through to the East.

ADN, the official East German news agency, said vehicles of the East Berlin Rescue Service were stationed at the Sonnenallee crossing to transport the old and infirm to their relatives.

ONE-DAY PERMITS

The Communist visiting permits are good for only one day. The West Berliners must return by midnight except on New Year's Eve. Then the time limit is extended to 5 a.m.

About 40 West Berliners jumped the gun and saw their loved ones behind the wall for a few hours Thursday, although today was the official starting day. The early birds put Thursday's date on their applications for permits, and the East German postal officials apparently didn't notice the date in the confusion of handling so many applications.

Officials on both sides of the wall were surprised when the first visitors walked or drove through the control points in the wall. But the Communists let them through.

EDUCATIONAL

can study the language of overseas neighbors.

"A great educator once said: 'For many people their learning process stops with graduation from school. The passing of an examination for them is merely permission to forget.'

"Why should the learning process cease when classroom days are over? Why should not learning grow with experience and judgment become more keen with increased knowledge? The answer could be locked up in the word 'opportunity.'

CULTURAL PROGRAMS

"Then, too, there are the cultural programs. During evening hours, the finest orchestras, the greatest plays and outstanding lecturers can be brought into the home. The South Central Educational Broadcasting Council plans to be part of a network to bring specialized talent from all over the country within the reach of the classroom and the home and with this can come a better understanding of matters that are important.

CAN BE USEFUL TOOL

"Why is free enterprise a better system than collectivism? How did America achieve freedom and at what cost? What must be the price to maintain our American heritage? The price of freedom could be courage and sacrifice.

but first we must have knowledge and understanding. Educational television can be a useful tool to this goal.

"From these statements one may summarize the purpose of educational television as follows: To inform the general public of the American way of life, as reflected in the free enterprise system; to provide additional cultural, health and welfare programs; to provide information and retraining programs for business and industry, and to meet the current crisis in public, private and parochial education. The pressure of the rapid numerical growth rate of students in our schools combined with the present day 'informational explosion' is changing the character of our educational task. The dire need for more classrooms and upgrading the level of instruction is an endless challenge. Television, with its tremendous appeal and ability to reach large audiences, offers a bright potential in meeting this crisis.

"Educational television has been successful in other areas. There are over 60 educational television channels in use throughout the United States with more soon to be in operation. In 1962 three million school children in the United States received part of their education via television. This year the number will double.

RAISING FUNDS NOW

The South Central Pennsylvania Broadcasting Council will be a part of a state ETV network. The largest is the Northeastern Educational Network with whom the South Central Area ETV Council expects to become affiliated. We have been invited to affiliate with NET, National Educational Television, for cultural programs.

"When can we expect educational television in our area and what is being done to obtain it? It is hoped that by the school year 1964-1965 the South Central Council will have proceeded to the point that programs will be telecast from its own studios in the community building at Hershey to the nine counties of Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Perry and York. This South Central Council is made up of members of business, industry, education, civic organizations and colleges of the nine counties. From this group 45 persons have been selected to serve as a board of directors. A general manager has been chosen to serve as the administrative officer of the council and to direct the operation of the broadcasting project.

"To provide facilities and equipment necessary to begin broadcasting operations, $850,000 is needed for capital outlay. Seventy percent, or $600,000, has already been made available through donations from businesses and industries or from grants of both the state and federal governments. The balance, or $250,000, is being raised through donations from business, industry and interested individuals and organizations throughout the nine counties of South Central Pennsylvania.

NEED $250,000 A YEAR

"The annual operating budget has been tentatively set at $250,000. This is the amount of money that will be needed for operation each year. The major portion of this operating budget should come from participating school districts and membership fees of colleges, industries, professional and civic organizations. It might be estimated that the cost to each school district may be approximately $1 per pupil per year or the cost of from three to four comic books per pupil. This figure will naturally depend upon the number of school districts and school systems that participate. Whatever the per pupil cost may be, we are confident that should all schools become actively affiliated with the Broadcasting Council the taxpayer will get more for his money. The schools will be able to improve the quality of education.

"It is the aim of the South Central Regional ETV Council to make ETV available to all schools in the nine-county area. Every effort will be explored to guarantee adequate reception to all school buildings, regardless of fringe area location. Where signal strength is weakened by valleys and mountains, reception may be improved by the use of translators strategically located to re-amplify signals. This is particularly important in dealing with UHF telecasts.

"The present allocation from the Federal Communications Commission is UHF Channel 65. Efforts are currently being exerted by our council's attorney and consulting engineer in Washington, D. C., to secure from FCC the rights to an inactive channel of lower UHF frequency now being held by a Harrisburg concern. The lower frequencies transmit better signals, require less maintenance of equipment and result in lower operational costs.

ONLY THE BEGINNING

"The board of directors has appointed a program committee to secure a limited supply of programs that are currently being viewed on the commercial stations of our area. These programs have been very helpful. The program committee has done a remarkable job but this has not been educational television as we should expect it to be with a staff trained in educational television, backed by a school-community organization with adequate financial resources. This committee's work has just started. The potential in programming can be endless and may include something at every grade level on every subject. The difficulty with good programming is that so much is available that teachers must be selective as to what is viewed. Classroom time will never permit a typical Fifth Grade teacher to use all that is suitable for Fifth Grade children. An active and energetic program committee working closely with a competent professional staff of the educational television station holds the key to the selective planning that is necessary.

"If educational television does become a reality in South Central Pennsylvania with programs originating in the studio facilities at Hershey and beamed to the homes, schools, colleges, factories and businesses of the nine-county area during the next school year, 1964-1965, the starting bell will have just sounded. Television can be the medium that can speed up and improve the educational process, offer the on-the-job training and provide a greater equality of educational opportunities for all citizens.

"We shall readily admit that educational television which will become available to Adams County next year is no cure-all or substitute for the classroom, but it can be a tremendously valuable tool for improved education of both our youths and adults in the future. Schools boards, school teachers and administrators and representatives of business and industry must judge the value of the medium. We feel that as citizens of Adams County gain greater insight on the subject of educational television, they will choose to support this opportunity to upgrade our educational program."

EARL BELLE RETURNS TO PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—After five years of self-imposed exile in Brazil, Earl Belle was back in Pittsburgh today where he faces federal charges of fraud stemming from his financial dealings.

The former financier was returned to his hometown Thursday, handcuffed, and escorted by two deputy marshals from New York City.

Belle has been set at $60,000. Belle was lodged in Allegheny County Jail pending payment of bond.

"ALMOST BROKE DOWN"

The balding ex-fugitive was dressed in summer clothing despite the freezing temperature in Pittsburgh. He spoke to newsmen at the Federal Building where he was fingerprinted.

"When I landed in this country I was real happy to see New York. When I reached Pittsburgh, I almost broke down. It's been so long since I was here," he said.

Belle, 32, boarded a jetliner in Rio de Janeiro last Saturday to New York where federal authorities arrested him. He denied reports that he left rather than face bad check charges in the South American country.

DENIES CHARGES

He also denied the fraud charges which came in the wake of the collapse of a financial empire he helped found in Pittsburgh.

"I didn't do anything. I was an employee. I was used by other people," Belle said.

Three other Pittsburgh men with whom he was once associated in the financial dealings have been convicted on federal charges.

The enterprise included the Cornucopia Gold Mines and the Eastern Investment and Development Corp.

"I want to first clear my name and then live in Pittsburgh," Belle said.

Mummers Protest Ban On Minstrels

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—About 125 Mummers paraded outside the house of Magistrate Elias Myers Thursday night protesting the order banning minstrel costumes and disguises for the annual New Year's Day parade two weeks hence.

Myers, director of the parade, and other Mummer leaders ordered the halt to black-face disguises as offensive to some members of society.

Musical Slated For World's Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—The musical extravaganza to be staged as part of New York's 1964 World's Fair has been entitled "To Broadway With Love."

Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, previously involved with such New York-flavored shows as "Fiorello!" and "Tenderloin," are doing the score. The show is being produced by George Schaefer, directed by Morton DaCosta.

FIGHT BLAZE IN SEA OF ICE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A six-alarm fire wrecked a Pittsburgh building early today as firemen fought the blaze in bitter, sub-zero weather.

Fire hoses were locked tight in several inches of ice as firemen labored in a sea of ice and slush. Firemen were ice-covered.

The blaze destroyed a two-story frame building housing a tavern on the first floor and a private club on the second in the Carrick section.

A wall came crashing down, narrowly missing several firemen nearby.

The fire raged for about three hours and covered the area with dense smoke. People were evacuated from nearby houses which for a time were threatened.

Five men in the club fled to safety, and sounded the first alarm.

A fireman suffered a hand cut and was taken to a hospital for treatment.

The cause of the fire was not determined. Arson inspectors were called to investigate.

Damages were estimated at $30,000 by firemen.

Defer Launching Weather Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Problems with the safety-destruct system today forced a third postponement of an attempt to launch the Tiro 8 weather satellite.

The shot was rescheduled for 4:30 a.m. EST Saturday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the delay was caused by circuitry troubles in the destruct system—the device the range safety officer would trigger to destroy the Delta booster if it went off course during launching.

The shot was postponed twice earlier this week because of difficulties with the rocket's control system.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

The Weeder's Guide

The Associated Press

We are asked frequently how to get rid of tree stumps without expending a lot of money or physical energy. There is no fast method without money and labor.

Burning stumps is one slow, comparatively easy process but often the stump is in a place where use of fire is impractical or illegal.

To accelerate rotting, the stump should be kept moist (not soaked). This may be done by piling soil or compost on and around the stump. The moisture will help produce fungi which will disintegrate the wood.

College of Forestry experts at Syracuse University say that if you take decaying wood from the same kind of tree as the stump and push it into cuts or borings, decay-causing fungi will grow and speed the breakdown.

How long will it take to eradicate a large stump by this method? About five to 10 years.

ASPARAGUS BEDS

Backyard asparagus beds seem to be on the upswing of popularity these days. A small area with about 15 plants will reward you with enough of the succulent stems for the average family.

We found that one-year roots were very satisfactory. Seed is slow to germinate, and the seedlings require care with careful weeding and thinning.

A good place for a bed is a row beside or behind a vegetable or flower garden where it makes a pleasant background.

For a bed with rich soil, spread decayed manure, a good commercial fertilizer (such as 5-8-7) and ground limestone and work this in to a depth of about 10 inches.

Asparagus plants should be set 15-18 inches apart in rows 3½ to 4 feet apart. The holes should be deep enough so that the roots may be spread slightly downward. The crown of the plant when covered should be an inch below the soil surface.

For deep planting, dig a five-inch trench if the soil is heavy, or eight if the soil is light and spread the roots out on the bottom. Cover the roots with one inch and press firmly. If you cover too deeply, the plants may smother. As the plants grow, fill the trench slowly so that the furrow is filled by the second season.

Outdoor Mass Is Sung At Truce Line

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—American soldiers took Christmas to the truce line dividing Korea Thursday and showed it to the Communist North Koreans.

Soldiers of the First Cavalry Division stood within 36 inches of the southern border of the truce line at an outdoor Mass. Farther West, in the neutral village of Panmunjom, the Americans decorated a 20-foot Christmas tree.

North Korean troops in Russian-style uniforms and fur hats watched the Mass being celebrated and the Christmas tree being lighted.

season. If the plants produce three to four stalks, you may begin cutting sparingly two years from planting. Cut for about three weeks, then permit the shoots to grow. The summer growth determines the size and quantity of shoots you will have for cutting the next year.

In the third year, your stocks should be ready for cutting for a six-week period—the maximum. Cut when the stalks are about six inches tall for the best crop.

The most important item in raising asparagus is to keep out the weeds. Mulching is helpful, especially in the north or in dry climate, but use mulch in which the seeds have been killed to avoid weeds. Decayed straw and manure are excellent. Sawdust and leaves are too acid without compensating with nitrogen.

When the ferns have turned yellow in the fall, cut them off close to the ground and burn them. Then give the bed a heavy dressing of manure or hay mulch. Asparagus beetles may be controlled with DDT, chlordane or mite dusts.

STEELERS AND BEARS EQUAL ON OFFENSIVE

NEW YORK (AP)—Andy Robustelli, the player-coach responsible for the New York Giants' defense, says the Chicago Bears and the Pittsburgh Steelers rate about the same offensively.

That's a compliment to the Bears, who are noted more for their dynamic defense than for their offensive exploits. The Giants regard the Steelers as a tough team on the attack.

The Steelers trounced the Giants 31-0 in their first meeting when Y. A. Tittle was out with injuries. But the New Yorkers, with the Bald Eagle back in action, whipped the Steelers 33-17 in the Eastern title-deciding game last Sunday. That victory put the Giants against the Bears for the NFL title at Chicago Dec. 29.

After watching movies of the second game with the Steelers and the Bears' last two games Thursday Robustelli said:

"The Steelers and the Bears look about the same to me offensively. Joe Marconi, the fullback, looked awfully strong to me. He's as tough as John Henry Johnson. Awful tough right at this point."

Orchestra Signs Two New Musicians

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Orchestra has announced the filling of two first desk positions with musicians presently with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Samuel Mayes will take over the first cellist position being vacated by Lorne Munroe who resigned to take a similar position with the New York Philharmonic. The orchestra announced Joseph dePasquale was hired as first violinist to succeed William Schoen. The orchestra said Schoen has resigned.

TOWER CAUSES BORDER ISSUE

VIENNA (AP)—An observation tower with the entrance in Austria and part of the staircase in Hungary has caused a border incident. The Hungarian Communists apparently did not like the "peeping tower."

Austrian officials said they believed the Hungarian Communists provoked the incident because they did not want Westerners to get a good look at the barbed wire fences and mine fields put up by the Hungarians on the Iron Curtain.

Before the border incident, the 59-foot-high tower on Geschriebenstein Mountain in Austria's Eastern Province of Burgenland was a major tourist attraction.

The tower situated on the 3,000-foot-high mountain, offered a close look on a long stretch of the Iron Curtain with its mine-field "death strip," double rows of barbed wire and watch towers on the Hungarian side. The tourists, on clear days, saw as far as Lake Balaton in Hungary.

The Hungarian border guards tried hard to ignore the steady stream of visitors.

Things changed recently, however. Hungarian guards told their Austrian counterparts ascension to the tower was a "border violation" because the border line runs straight through its foundation placing the entrance on Austrian territory and part of the staircase in Hungary.

"Anybody climbing up on the staircase violates the Hungarian border," the Hungarian guards said.

Soon afterward, the Hungarians showed that they meant business. When a Viennese tourist mounted the tower, the guards called to him in Hungarian. The man climbed down in a hurry, but the Hungarians nevertheless fired two warning shots.

"This was the first border incident here since the Iron Curtain was put up," Austrian border guards said.

"We have had a relatively good relationship with the Hungarians so far," they said. The Hungarians even consented to the renovation of the tower last year, although the Austrians had to work partly on Hungarian territory. "They did not help, though," the Austrians added.

Gives Decision On Becoming A Monk

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A basic experience essential to becoming a monk is the recognition that life becomes senseless unless it transcends death. Brother David Steindl-Rast told a University of Michigan audience.

A monk of Mt. Saviour monastery, Pine City, N. Y., he said: "By detachment, continence and obedience to a master, the monk strips himself of the goods of which death will deprive all men, especially money, sex, independence, which our society clutches in despair."

Since the incident with the Viennese tourist nobody has dared to mount the tower.

Drunk Winds Up On Airport Runway

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The giant jet airliner roared down the runway at International Airport. Roaring in its wake, like a goat chasing an elephant, came a Volkswagen sedan, Leo Am-brose O'Hearn at the controls.

Police said they ran the little auto to earth after a long chase. Asked how he got onto the runway without being seen, police said he replied: "I don't know, I'm lost. I guess I took the wrong turn."

Police said O'Hearn, 38, was on his way home from a Christmas party.

He was booked on a charge of being drunk on airport property, a violation of municipal law.

WARNING ON WESTERNIZING

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Christian faith cannot allow itself simply to be identified with Western culture as its religious face," the Rev. Charles D. Kean, a Washington Episcopal pastor, writes in a new book "That Hearing They Shall Perceive" (Seabury). He says Western culture cannot assume it has universal relevance.

SAY POPULAR OPINION CAN UPSET COURT BIBLE READING

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's prayer decision could be reversed by popular opinion, according to Justice Arthur Goldberg.

Speaking Thursday to some 300 persons at ceremonies observing the adoption of the Bill of Rights, Goldberg said "power is derived from the people. They can always adopt an amendment reversing the court."

Goldberg cited the constitutional amendment authorizing graduated income tax as an example of a reversal of a court decision. An earlier decision had called such a tax unconstitutional.

NOT SELF OPERATIVE

A Supreme Court ruling last June cited Bible reading and prayers, as required exercises in public schools, as unconstitutional.

When asked why Supreme Court civil rights decisions have not resulted in equal rights for all, the Supreme Court justice said:

"The court decisions are not self-operative. We need the cooperation of state and local governments and of the people to make them work."

NOT WISE POLICY

Goldberg said that when the Bill of Rights was adopted, it was understood that the courts would have the authority to nullify unconstitutional acts of the executive.

He said this was the only way the Bill of Rights could be made effective.

At the same time, however, he questioned whether a court reversal as a result of opposing public opinion would be wise, as a matter of policy.

The ceremonies were sponsored by the National Assembly on Teaching the Principles of the Bill of Rights.

BRIDGE AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate Thursday a bill to authorize construction of a bridge over the Delaware River between Chester, Pa., and Gloucester County, N.J.

The measure would grant congressional consent to an agreement already approved by New Jersey and Pennsylvania to authorize the Delaware River Port Authority to build the structure.

Scranton Favored For GOP Nomination By Pennsylvania County Chairman, Says AP

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona no longer is regarded as the strongest Republican presidential candidate by Pennsylvania's 67 GOP county chairmen.

The assassination of President Kennedy diminished Goldwater's support considerably.

Two months ago a majority of the state GOP chairmen—38—thought Goldwater would be the strongest candidate. Now only eight give him the edge.

Right now, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania is the front runner according to a new telephone poll of the county chairmen taken by the Associated Press.

The AP posed this question: "On the basis of present conditions, in the light of the death of President Kennedy, whom do you consider the strongest candidate for the Republican presidential nomination?"

18 FOR SCRANTON

Scranton received 18 votes, some of them conditional. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon had 9, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York 2, Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts 2, while 13 were undecided.

Thirteen GOP chairmen could not be reached for a vote: Clearfield, Delaware, Juniata, Mifflin, Monroe, Pike, Potter, Somerset, Washington, Wayne, Westmoreland, Wyoming and York.

In the first poll, in October, 63 of the 67 state GOP chairmen commented. Besides the 38 votes for Goldwater then, there were 11 for Scranton, 6 for Nixon, and 1 for Rockefeller. Six had no choice.

Muddled Picture

The county leaders, though giving Scranton an edge in the latest poll, emphasized the political picture was so muddled today that anything could happen between now and the national convention next July in San Francisco.

Everyone emphasized that the slaying of Kennedy had apparently thrown the Republican presidential nomination into a wide open race, up for grabs by almost anyone.

Albert F. Williams of Centre County—a predominantly rural area in the middle of the state who originally figured Goldwater was way ahead—made a comment that was fairly typical:

"WOULDN'T BET"

"I wouldn't bet a penny on anything right now. It's pretty confused. I hope it would be Scranton (to win the nomination), but I don't know who'd they'd come up with."

Williams said that in his county, with its agriculture, mining and educational makeup Scranton right now is the strongest Republican candidate.

Though Scranton's stock has been rising, with his name apparently getting more mention nationally, the governor consistently has stated he is not a candidate and will go to the convention only as the "favorite son" of the powerful Pennsylvania delegation.

WON TOP POST

Scranton won the governorship 13 months ago with a smashing 390,000-vote majority that ended eight years of Democratic statehouse control. Kennedy won the state in 1960 by 116,000 votes.

State Sen. Albert Pechan, Armstrong County chairman, said he believes Nixon is the strongest GOP candidate today, but also believes that if Scranton should formally enter the fight for the nomination "he can walk away with the convention."

NEARBY COMMENT

Robert A. Evans of Franklin: "I think Goldwater still has the edge although he has dropped considerably."

Oliver J. Dickey of Cumberland: "I still think that if President Johnson comes out for the same program as Kennedy, Goldwater would be the strong-

Identify Prisoner As Bank Bandit

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Welty, 34, has been identified by the federal bureau of investigation as one of the two men who robbed $28,000 from a Bath, Pa. bank.

The FBI said that Welty has been a prisoner at Eastern State Penitentiary since he was picked up Nov. 15 as a parole violator.

Recently, Raymond Lake of Easton was arrested and accused as one of the participants in the Sept. 3 robbery at the First National Bank of Bath.

Welty has also been indicted for the theft of seven guns from a U.S. Army Reserve sub-center at Tatamy, near Easton, since his re-arrest as a parole violator.

BUY MORE LAND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Scott Paper Co. purchased about 19 acres of land adjacent to its Chester, Pa. paper mill and distribution facilities, it was announced Thursday.

Scott, which already owns about 29 acres in the area, made the purchase from Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Co.

est candidate. Bill Scranton has picked up considerable support."

The Associated Press told The Gettysburg Times that they had not received a statement from the chairman in Adams or York County.

SAY FEDERAL FUNDS HELPING IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Federal area redevelopment funds have created more jobs in Pennsylvania than anywhere in the country, according to William L. Batt Jr., who heads the Area Redevelopment Administration.

"We have approved 37 projects in Pennsylvania, involving $10.5 million in federal funds, which will provide 10,000 jobs directly or indirectly," Batt told a news conference Thursday after meeting with Gov. Scranton.

"This state," Batt said, "is making far better use of the program than any other state."

MORE BEING DEVELOPED

He said at present Pennsylvania is developing 20 additional projects involving $5 million in federal funds and aimed at providing 3,000 jobs. The bulk of the projects are located in the state's economically distressed coal areas.

The federal loans usually are matched by state, local and private funds. To qualify for ARA funds, an area must have at least six per cent of its work force unemployed and exceed the national unemployment rate.

Batt, who served as state secretary of labor and industry under former Gov. David L. Lawrence, said he discussed the entire ARA program with Scranton.

The program applies to all types of projects, running the gamut between tourism, recreation and industrial development.

Army quarterback Rollie Stichweh threw only seven passes in the recent Navy game. He completed three.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Arriving in Japan from her native New Hampshire in 1909 with three gingham dresses and a knife, fork and spoon, Mabel Francis set out to build a mission for the Christian and Missionary Alliance. She had great faith but no knowledge even of the Japanese language.

During World War II, her faith decreed that she stay at her post, although she knew that it would mean imprisonment. Both she and her sister, who had joined her, served as best they could in prison, caring for the ill and instilling hope. Food became scarce and conditions became worse, but they never regretted their decision. At the war's end, they were able to continue their much needed work as soon as they were released.

For her long years of service, Miss Francis received from the Japanese Government in 1962, the highest award made to civilians in that country. At 83, still working at her missionary post in Hiroshima with no thought of retiring, Miss Francis says, "I haven't finished all my work yet."

Thursday night he got away when his car was wrecked after pursuing officers shot out two tires. He fled on foot and was seen again, but managed to escape.

Policemen have appealed to him through the news media to surrender before someone is killed in the pursuits.

SET $100,000 BAIL FOR SPY FROM RUSSIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bail of $100,000 has been set for a Russian chauffeur accused of spying against the United States, but the U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals has failed to rule on an appeal for bail for an American arrested in the same case.

Bail was set Thursday for Igor A. Ivanov, 33, the chauffeur who worked for a Soviet trading agency in New York. John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, N.J., an American engineer indicted in the case, had also asked that bail be set for him. At the hearing Thursday his lawyer asked that bail be set at $25,000, saying that is all Butenko could raise. Butenko testified he was "innocent of all charges." His plea was taken under advisement.

Ivanov and Butenko are accused of three counts of conspiring to transmit to Moscow secrets of the strategic air command's command and control systems. They were arrested in Englewood, N.J. Oct. 29 and later indicted by a federal grand jury in Newark, N.J.

GREENHOUSE BURNS

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Fire today destroyed a greenhouse and packing room rented by a florist on the property of Mrs. Charles Weaver in Ronks, four miles east of Lancaster.

The florist, Elvin Wissler, said the blaze destroyed a flower crop he valued at $15,000. Firemen estimated loss to the property at about $25,000.

Mighty Man, a Brussels griffin from Rolling Hills, Calif., marked up 11 best-in-show awards during 1963.

PRINCESS HAS A DAUGHTER

MADRID, Spain (AP)—A palace spokesman said Princess Sophie of Greece, 25, gave birth today to a daughter.

Had the child been a son, he would have been third in line after the father, Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, for the now vacant throne of monarchist Spain.

Waiting at the clinic for the royal birth were the father, Juan Carlos, 25, and Queen Frederika of Greece, mother of the 24-year-old princess.

The new baby was linked by royal bloodlines to many of the former crowned heads of Europe. Experts here said she was the 41st direct descendant of Emperor Charlemagne, the 13th of Queen Mary of Scotland, and the 10th of King Peter the Great of Russia.

Two Xmas Trees Are Given Mrs. Kennedy

By KELLY SMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children have two Christmas trees to decorate, her host, Col. C. Michael Paul said today. The trees have been made available to the former First Lady for her holiday season visit in Florida.

The Associated Press reported Wednesday there was no Christmas tree in the mansion. Although there was no decorated tree, Paul said two had been set aside for Mrs. Kennedy and the children to use as they desired.

Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish chief of state, and his wife were informed immediately of the birth and sent congratulations to the young parents.

TOBOGGAN'S VICTIM VOWS SHE'LL RETURN

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Young Miss Elizabeth Gould has a black eye. She also has two broken legs, a fractured elbow, a cast from her neck to her ankles and a cheerful smile that stretches from here to here. "Look for me at Innsbruck," she said, waving cheerfully before her plane left Copenhagen for New York and further medical treatment today. "Tell them I'll bring some goodies back from the States."

Miss Gould, a 25-year-old former school teacher from Rydal, Pa., sustained the multiple injuries in a toboggan crash in central Poland early this week during a trial run at Krynica, where the U.S. Olympic toboggan team is training.

65 MILES TO HOSPITAL
"I hit and I don't remember anything for two days," said the freckled-faced girl who wears her hair in pig tails.

She was rushed 65 miles over icy roads to a small hospital in southern Poland and hospitalized there for four days before transportation could be arranged to Warsaw.

Luckily she arrived in Warsaw the same day that a U.S. Embassy plane arrived with supplies from Western Europe. She returned to Copenhagen Thursday, then left via a U.S. Air Force plane for New York.

WITH SECRETARY

She is being accompanied by an embassy secretary, Margaret Stallmack. They are scheduled to arrive in New York late this afternoon.

Miss Gould, who taught school for a year at San Diego, Calif., after graduation from the University of Missouri, was chipper and cheerful throughout her ordeal and vowed to return to the Winter Olympics in Innsbruck, "even on crutches."

Elizabeth said her first love was skiing, but she turned to toboggan competition "because many American skiers are just plain better. It breaks my heart not being able to compete or even to ski this winter."

WORKED HER WAY

She said she worked her way to Europe and had a job as a maid in Germany for a year before the Olympic toboggan team was organized.

Dr. Adam Gruca, a leading Polish orthopedist, said the girl's condition was surprisingly good and her spirits high. Final setting of the broken bones, both thighs and the right elbow, are scheduled in New York.

"The broken parts hurt," she admitted, "but I can wiggle by toes and fingers. Watch."

And the lively girl, who delights in skiing and tobogganing, gave her performance. She wiggled her fingers and toes.

Mothers Honor "Street Angel"

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Roy Huls, who has become known as the "Guardian Angel of Frank Street" here, had the tables turned on her recently as neighborhood children threw a party in honor of her 57th birthday.

"Hulsey," as the children call her, gained her Guardian Angel title from thankful mothers whose children Mrs. Huls has chased out of the street.

In addition to being a volunteer baby sitter and watchdog for the children, Mrs. Huls is a seamstress and has made dresses for dozens of little girls. She also is a softy for candy handouts.

This time, however, the candy went to Mrs. Huls. But, as one neighbor put it, "By this time tomorrow, I bet she'll have returned all the candy to the children."

Russians Shop For New Year, Grandfather Frost's Visit

By REINHOLD ENSZ
MOSCOW (AP) — On New Year's morning — when many adults in the West are nursing hangovers — Russian children receive their Christmas toys.

They were brought during the night by Grandfather Frost, the traditional Russian version of Santa Claus. The good grandfather looks almost like Santa Claus, except his robes drag along in the snow and his beard is longer.

He leaves his presents under a brightly decorated tree, or in stockings that hang on the tree. But why does he wait until January 1? What has been doing?

RELIGION REMOVED

His tardiness is not his fault. It was decreed by the Communist party after it took over the country in 1917. The party commissars were determined to wipe out all traces of religion, so they ruled that Christmas no longer exists. But they also decreed that some aspects of the Christmas season — the giving of presents, the Christmas tree and Grandfather Frost — should be carried over to the New Year's Eve celebration.

So this is what happens here: The oldest welcome the New Year on New Year's Eve, just as in the West. There is much drinking of vodka dancing and feasting. This is generally done around the Christmas tree, or New Year's tree as it is officially called. During the night, after the children have gone to bed, the presents are put under the tree.

RELIGIOUS CHRISTMAS

That is what the majority of Soviet families do. Some, however, insist on celebrating a "religious" Christmas and this is done on January 7 which happens to be Christmas Day on the old calendar still used by the Russian Orthodox Church. Precisely how many Russians celebrate the old Christmas is difficult to determine. Such figures are not released by the Kremlin, and the church — if it knows — is prudently keeping silent.

(The church claims 50 million citizens are believers. Total population of the Soviet Union is about 220 million.)

FOUR CELEBRATIONS

Some Russians have the best of both worlds. They not only celebrate on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, but also on January 7. And some even celebrate again — on January 13, which is New Year's Day according to the old calendar.

At any rate the Christmas shopping — or rather New Year's shopping — begins here in the middle of November, when the bigger stores blossom out with Christmas tree decorations and other traditional holiday items. Toy stocks also become a bit bigger, and wistful youngsters file through the stores, their eyes full of hope, just as in the West.

TOYS EXPENSIVE

However, in the Soviet Union there is often more hope than fulfillment. The toys are there, but the prices can be heartbreaking, especially when one considers the fact that the minimum wage in the Soviet Union is 40 rubles a month. The average wage for factory workers is around 80 or 90 rubles a month. Match these against the toy prices:

A medium to large-size doll: 10 to 15 rubles.

A small box of colored wooden blocks: 3.70 to 5.50 rubles.

A medium-size drum: 12.00.

A very small bicycle with hard rubber tires: 19.00.

A toy dog (imported from East Germany): 9.00.

A teddy bear: 8.00.

Small metal cars and trucks: 0.55 to 3.70.

A wooden truck with a rocket on a dummy launcher: 3.00.

A tool chest: 9.50.

Hobby horses: 21.00.

Pedal-powered cars: 35.00.

A ruble officially is valued at $1.11.

CONSISTENT PRICES

Mrs. Sinaida Tyurina, head of the toy section of Moscow's Det-sky Mir, a special store devoted entirely to children, became indignant when asked during an interview if prices were higher during the New Year shopping season.

"No," she replied emphatically, "in the Soviet Union it is forbidden to raise prices when demand is up."

She said dolls for girls, and cars and trucks for boys are most in demand.

In response to another question, Mrs. Tyurina said 12 to 15 per cent of the toys in her store are imported from Soviet bloc countries — mostly East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. An inspection tour of the store indicated most of the imported items are from East Germany.

EAST GERMAN TOYS

The East German goods included small tricycles, stuffed animals, construction sets (for cranes, etc.) and model trains. Their quality was superior to Soviet items, but below Western standards. Prices for imported goods are, of course, higher. A Soviet tricycle costs 7.00 rubles, while an East German model costs 13.00.

A model train kit from East Germany — containing only three cars, 16 pieces of track and a switch-transformer — costs 10.00 rubles. Only one locomotive was on display.

TURNS ON LIGHTS

Grandfather Frost does not appear in the stores as Santa Claus does in the United States. He prefers to show up at children's parties, where he acts as a master of ceremonies. A wave of his magic stick turns on the lights of the New Year's tree; another wave and the band begins to play.

He makes an effort to be jolly, but he also makes a point of asking the children about their behavior during the past year. Incidentally, old Frost is always accompanied by the "Snow Maiden" — a young woman dressed in an ancient Russian winter costume. She makes a point of dancing and joking with the children at the parties.

The children are encouraged to wear carnival-masks to the

COED SPREADS VITAL MESSAGE

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The girl — about — campus has changed.

Typical of the new breed of college girls is Mary Lou May, 20, of the University of Seattle, national vice president of the College Council of the United Nations.

"The message I am trying to spread to college students everywhere is that it is most meaningful in studying the world situation to be free of cynicism and to remember you have faith in individual people," she explains.

She believes it is particularly important to single out groups of exchange students studying here and to conduct campus symposiums on the area in which they are interested.

SHE RAN EXHIBIT

"One of the best aspects of this type of friendly approach is the social that may be held afterwards, when there is opportunity to learn the songs and dances of other countries and to get to know the individuals as friends. That's the best way to learn about them and their country," she points out. Mary Lou conducted several of these symposiums at Seattle University.

Another way you can get to understand people is by working with them, she says. She ran the Peace Corps exhibit at the Seattle World's Fair during the day, and the U.N. pavilion exhibit in the evenings, as a result of having been active for the U.N. on campus. A Senior, she'll get a degree in political science. "You can get to understand people and their problems by working with them. Two of my friends have already gone off, one to Kenya and one to Latin America," says Mary Lou.

DEMOCRATS CHIDED BY SCRANTON

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton chided the Democrats Thursday as he signed $72 million in appropriations for state-aided universities, colleges, hospitals and other institutions.

During the regular session of the legislature last summer House Democrats tried to use the appropriations to block Republicans from pushing through their reapportionment plans.

In signing the bills, Scranton declared the "tactic of the Democrat minority which delayed these needed funds was politics at its worst and completely unfair to the institutions affected."

PROVISION VETOED

The appropriations finally passed last week in a special session called by the governor. Democrats agreed to end their five-month holdout and gave the needed votes for a two-thirds majority.

The largest single appropriation goes to Pennsylvania State University which receives $25,090,000. Another $14,989,920 is earmarked for 190 hospitals.

Scranton vetoed a proposed $55,000 increase for Hahnemann Medical College and hospital in Philadelphia.

In disapproving the increase, Scranton noted that Hahnemann already receives $173,650 under the bill. He did approve $104,000 for the Magee Memorial and Philadelphia Psychiatric Hospitals in Philadelphia. Both were inserted in the administration bill by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

'Ugly Americans' Write New Overseas Behavior Novel

HONOLULU (AP) — Authors Eugene Burdick and William Lederer again are criticizing America's official behavior overseas. But this time they plan to solve all the problems — on paper at least.

The creators of "The Ugly American" are at work on a new novel tracing the adventures of a college professor and a retired naval captain, who save a fictional Asian nation from communism, political chaos and religious upheaval. The nation could fit the mold of South Viet Nam.

Burdick and Lederer insist the book — due for publication next spring — is not autobiographical. They acknowledge that it may be more than coincidence that Burdick is a political science professor at the University of California and Lederer is a retired U.S. Navy captain.

They call the novel an adventure story in a puckish mood.

The story, as yet untitled, deals with U.S. intelligence methods in foreign lands. There is strong criticism — by inference — that America fails to collect, interpret and utilize information in effective ways.

"There are individual Americans — mainly newsmen — who find out more about a country in two weeks than intelligence officers or the ambassadors do in two years," said Lederer.

"I've never understood," chimed in Burdick, "why our government people don't utilize the talents of nongovernment workers in other countries."

Said Burdick: "We are not going to come right out and say the U.S. intelligence sources — State Department, Central Intelligence Agency military intelligence — are doing a bad job."

"From the way our professor and captain handle a situation and the way official sources do the same job, the inference will be clear that the government isn't as effective as it could be."

The two heroes of the novel will "have time to familiarize themselves with the situation," Burdick said, "and six months to work out solutions. And they'll be successful."

Burdick and Lederer wrote "The Ugly American" in 1958. It was an instant success, selling more than 500,000 hard-cover copies and 3.1 million paperback copies. It became a motion picture this year.

"We've been asked why we didn't come out with another book immediately after that one," Lederer said. "We felt we didn't have much more to add, that the book covered the multitude of sins existing at that time."

(In the interim, Burdick collaborated with Harvey Wheeler on the best seller "Fail-Safe," a controversial story of accidental nuclear attack.)

WORLD CHANGES

"But the nature of the globe has changed since 1958 and America's position with it," Lederer continued. "It's time for a look at the new problems."

When Lederer described the book as "an effort to show directly what we are doing wrong all over the world and what we can do to make things right," Burdick brought up South Viet Nam as an illustration. He referred to the religious controversy between the Buddhists and the country's president, a Roman Catholic.

"Almost all of us who have been there have known this, and have known something was going to happen," Burdick said. "We didn't know it was going to be Buddhist monks burning themselves to death, but we knew it was going to be something drastic."

"Our official intelligence people, who obviously were aware of the problem, apparently did nothing. At least our government acted as if it was caught off guard."

The Stocking Display At Fischer Home Has Jumped From 5 To 10 In One Year

By LEW FERGUSON
ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The jump from 5 to 10 stockings by the tree will mean a Christmas like never before for the Fischer family.

This time last year, the family was preparing for a quiet Christmas at its modest home outside town.

There were a few toys for the five children, a Christmas tree, candy and cookies.

Christmas never again will be that simple at the Fischer home.

When Mrs. Mary Ann Fischer gave birth to quintuplets Sept. 14, all the Fischers' lives were changed forever.

HAS SAME JOB
About the only things unchanged by the quint's birth are that Andrew Fischer still has the same job and three of the five older children go to school as usual.

This Christmas, the Fischers and their 10 children have an attractive 9-room home in northeast Aberdeen. Three of the quintuplets are home and the other two are expected to go home from the hospital by Christmas.

There are almost more gifts than anyone has time to unwrap.

VAST CHANGE
The altering of the Fischer family routine has been tremendous. Mrs. Fischer has full-time help with the children and housework.

Fischer, $80-a-week billing clerk at a grocery warehouse, has had his fortune increased substantially — although not to the extent many might believe.

A family spokesman says cash and merchandise gifts have totaled less than $10,000, not counting sale of story and picture rights to national publications which reportedly have added another $30,000. Because of the sale of the story and picture rights, the family won't talk to newsmen about personal matters.

GETS NEW HOME
The City of Aberdeen is to build the family a home on a free site. A city official says the site probably will be selected by the end of the year.

The quintuplets themselves have lost none of their appeal in this prairie city of 25,000. Motorists arriving at the city on U.S. 12 and 281 are greeted by new 15 by 30 foot signs saying: "Welcome to Aberdeen, home of the Fischer quintuplets."

The quintuplets have gained weight and strength steadily.

James Andrew, the only boy, was well ahead of any of his four sisters in everything — getting out formula, getting out of the islets at St. Luke's Hospital, and getting out of the hospital.

Mary Magdalene and Mary Margaret went home only last Saturday. Mary Catherine and Mary Ann are due to go home very soon.

STOCKS IRREGULAR
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed an irregularly lower trend early this afternoon with volume slackening.

Gains and losses of key stocks ranged from fractions to a point or so.

The profit-taking aspect of year-end transactions appeared to be uppermost for the time being. The list was continuing the same kind of behavior it displayed Thursday.

A number of issues recouped some of the sharp losses taken in Thursday's decline but the general picture was one of losses.

STARS ON THE SET—Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni, two of Italy's top screen stars, are caught in closeup while filming "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow" in Naples.

Reds Bolster Force On China's Border

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union has reinforced its troops on the frontier with Communist China, Western sources in Moscow report.

Informed officials in London and Paris say a "moderate" eastward movement of Soviet troops from central Russia was detected in October. The army units were understood to be moving toward China's Sinkiang province.

Sinkiang, on China's north-west border with Russia, has been the scene of serious trouble between the two powers for the past two years. In September, Peking charged Soviet agents with "enticing and coercing several tens of thousands of Chinese citizens" into Russia.

ADVISE IN THE TIMES

SAVED MINERS OFFER PRAYER AT RESCUE SITE

HAZELTON, Pa. (AP)—David Fellin and Henry Throne, who were saved after two weeks entrapment in a coal mine, returned to the scene of their rescue today, set up a little Christmas tree and spoke a prayer for the third man who perished in the cave-in.

The two men, wrapped in hooded coats, knelt in the snow on either side of the unadorned evergreen, their minds undoubtedly filled with thoughts of the dramatic events upon which world attention was focussed last August.

Fellin, 58; Throne, 28; and Louis Bova, 54, were trapped in the mine at nearby Shepperton on Aug. 13. They were all but given up for dead. A few days later, in an electrifying development, it became plan that Fellin and Throne were alive, perhaps Bova, too. That wasn't sure, however, since Bova was separated from the other two by a mass of debris.

RESCUED AUG. 27
On Aug. 27, Fellin and Throne were brought up from more than 300 feet below, by means of a special harness. Day and night, as relatives and friends kept vigil, experts had drilled through earth and rock to reach the miners.

Only this week the Schuylkill County Court closed the books officially on the fate of Bova, ruling that he is legally dead. Prompted by the testimony of a pathologist concerning survival possibilities, the court set the date of death at Oct. 1. Bova, conceivably, could have lived that long. Under Fellin's direction, efforts soon will be made to recover his body.

Finance Minister Of Brazil Quits
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Finance Minister Carlos Carvalho Pinto resigned Thursday night, and President Joao Goulart named a conservative banker to replace him on an interim basis.

Goulart's appointment of Ney Galvao, former president of the Bank of Brazil, obviously was designed to prevent financial panic at Pinto's resignation. Brazil's economy, by Goulart's admission, is near collapse.

Galvao is expected to follow much the same policies as Pinto, who was noted for a tight governmental austerity program. Goulart's speedy action also quieted business fears that the president would name his anti-American, pro-Castro brother-in-law, Leonel Brizola, former governor of the state of Rio Grande do Sul.

Japs Raise Fund For JFK Memorial

YOKOTA AIR BASE, Japan (AP)—A memorial to the late President Kennedy, built with funds donated by Japanese employees at this U.S. air base, was unveiled today.

1st Lt. Joseph C. Kennedy Jr., a navigator with the 56th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron and a relative of the late President, unveiled the 10-foot black granite monument.

The monument stands by a traffic circle on the main road of the base.

An Air Force spokesman said the idea for the memorial originated among the Japanese employees and they raised the equivalent of $695 in two days.

YWCA Prints Many Books On Religion, Moral Issues

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

People today ask hard questions about religion. The Young Men's Christian Association tries to provide some straight answers.

Among topics it takes up: "What psychology says about religion; what archeology says about the Bible; the art of Christian doubt; evidence of eternity; what Christianity says about sex, love and marriage; why believe in God?"

These are among scores of titles in the Y's book department, Association Press, world's largest nonprofit, nondenominational publishing house.

Since it is not controlled by any single church, it can deal with religious issues on a broadly nondenominational basis. And it can tackle questions that may get bypassed in regular ecclesiastical channels.

"It is unique in its development of reading material directed toward youth and laymen," says the Rev. Dr. Stanley I. Stuber of Jefferson City, Mo., its new director.

He takes over in January from James Rietmulder, who is resigning after 11 years to become executive vice president of the Stackpole Co. a book publisher with headquarters in Harrisburg, Pa.

STARTED IN 1907
The YMCA, a 120-year-old interdenominational organization with branches in 83 countries, started its unusual "ministry in print" in 1907.

In recent years, Rietmulder has led in its expansion into a wide-ranging operation, issuing candid interchurch studies on various issues, but concentrating mainly on practical religious problems.

The main concern, Rietmulder says, is "with the place of religion in everyday life" and with "helping people to find answers to their ethical and moral problems."

New Plant Will Go To Stroudsburg

HARRISBURG (AP)—A subsidiary of the Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla., plans to locate a plant in Stroudsburg, Pa., offering employment for several hundred workers.

Gov. Scranton announced Thursday that he has received the following message from the Mehl Manufacturing Corp., a plastic packaging materials and machinery firm in Cincinnati:

"We feel the labor resources and over-all facilities meet our needs in the expanding eastern market. We are optimistic that Mehl and the Stroudsburg area can grow together. We have received fine cooperation from state and local officials with whom we have worked."

Scranton hailed the company's decision as "further evidence of the great advantages Pennsylvania has to offer business and industry."

ally every major denomination are among the Y's stable of writers. Besides turning out material for adults, it also zeroes in on teen-agers with special "teen-age" numbers.

The department issues an average 50 to 60 new titles a year both as hard-bound volumes and paperback books. Its gross volume exceeds $1 million annually.

In resigning, Rietmulder said "the health of an operation like this and of whoever is at its helm requires change."

Dr. Stuber has been executive director of the Missouri Council of Churches, and was a guest-observer at the 1962 and 1963 sessions of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

An American Baptist, he said he saw the Y's publishing arm as a means for making the Christian causes of church unity, racial understanding, world peace and Christian moral standards in sex and family life "understandable and acceptable to youth and laymen."

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno declared Thursday nothing—not even American fleets—can stop Indonesia from going through with its determined drive to crush the Federation of Malaysia.

Judge Disrupts Electric Current

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—"All rise," said the bailiff as Judge Lester L. Barrett swept into Baltimore County Circuit Court.

As the lawyers and spectators got to their feet, the courtroom was plunged into darkness. Judge Barrett's robe had caught on an electrical switch near the door.

As the lights came on again, Attorney Fred D. Weisgal said "Your honor, that was the most dramatic entrance I've ever seen."

Love is the heart of Christmas; its spirit is peace, and hope the gladness. May you and yours be blessed with these joys and every other happiness for which you are wishing.

Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was elated, but he knew better than to crow, when this week he signed bills approving federal aid to education. His troubles in this field are just beginning.

It took Congress all year to pass three pieces, far-reaching but pieces, of President John F. Kennedy's broad aid to education program. Johnson inherited the sorest, most sensitive piece which Congress left unpassed.

This part has been a religious issue since Kennedy first offered his program in 1961: Federal aid to public elementary and secondary schools, but not to Catholic schools.

PLEGGED TO JFK

Kennedy excluded Catholic schools on the constitutional grounds of keeping state and church separate. Catholic spokesmen opposed it, unless Catholic schools were included.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, never got to first base with it. Johnson, a Protestant, is pledged to support the Kennedy programs. The outlook for this one in 1964 looks dismal. This writer found no one optimistic about its chances.

Nevertheless, the Johnson administration is expected to push for it. This isn't the only Kennedy program which Johnson supports, but whose chances also look dismal. There's another: Medical care for the aged.

SCHEDULE IN DANGER

Time, too, will work against federal aid to education in the elementary and secondary schools in 1964. Johnson is plugging first for a tax cut and a strong civil rights bill.

A filibuster by Southern Democrats against civil rights might take weeks in an election year when Congress wants to quit early. This would gum up the Senate schedule, perhaps squeezing out any action on aid to education which, if it did come up, might also consume more weeks in argument.

3 PIECES PASSED

These were the three pieces of federal aid to education to pass this year:

1. One to give loans and grants to public and private (including Catholic) colleges and universities to help build classrooms, libraries and laboratories. But this bill forbids use of government money to build divinity schools.

2. One to help finance the building of medical schools and give loans to medical students.

3. One to support vocational education, help school districts jammed because of nearby federal bases, and provide student loan funds.

A FINE DISTINCTION

It's that No. 1 measure which may encourage advocates of federal aid to education to think that Congress now might give similar help to both public and Catholic elementary and secondary schools.

There's a fine distinction in the reasoning about helping Catholic colleges and helping Catholic elementary schools, although it may not be persuasive with everyone:

While a Catholic child below a certain age level may be required by church regulations to attend a Catholic elementary school, there's no compulsion on a college age Catholic student to attend a Catholic college or any college at all.

Much more persuasive in getting that No. 1 bill through this year were probably factors like these:

The great need by all kinds of institutions of higher learning for financial help; the flat ban in No. 1 against the use of federal money for religious purposes; and the increasing population pressure of college-age students.

The root question still remains: Is giving aid to a Catholic college constitutional? there will be no answer unless the Supreme Court gives it, if some one appeals.

This other factor remains a stumbling block to federal aid to Catholic elementary and secondary schools: They do give religious instruction.

Two Urban Renewal
Grants Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Urban Renewal administration announced Thursday that the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce is the recipient of two grants totaling $79,946.

Venango County communities and areas will receive one grant of $44,276. The money will be used to help finance preparation of plans for the growth of Conplanter Township, Cranberry Township, Franklin, French Creek Township, Oil City, Sandy Creek Township and Sugar Creek Township.

Scranton and Old Forge, two Lackawanna County communities, will receive $35,670 to help in the preparation of similar plans.

WILD KINGDOM IS FASCINATING
ANIMAL SHOW

NEW YORK (AP) — Giraffes are capable of throaty growls; chameleons don't change color to camouflage themselves, and bulls do not react wildly to the color red.

Last Sunday, on an NBC program aimed at younger audiences, a man named Marlin Perkins demonstrated conclusively that many ideas about animals are myths.

He showed a sound film he shot in Africa that recorded the voices of reputedly mute giraffes. He placed a chameleon on a number of backgrounds including a sporty red plaid, and the creature remained the same brownish green color. The bull obviously reacted to the movement of material, not its color.

Perkins' weekly program, "Wild Kingdom," has been fascinating the public for two seasons. But Perkins, director of the St. Louis Zoo, is a television veteran whose "Zoo Parade" was a popular Sunday afternoon program for nine years, until 1957.

Over the years Perkins has

XMAS MAILING AFFECTED BY JFK'S DEATH

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Christmas mail rush may fall short of the record volume predicted. Postal officials are convinced the death of President taught thousands of youngsters how to handle animals, feed them, and avoid frightening or hurting them. Next Sunday, the program will show experiments on the intelligence of monkeys. Recommended Sunday viewing:

"To Men of Good Will," CBS, 10-11 a.m. EST — Special program of holiday music and poetry; "Sunday," NBC 3:30-5 p.m. — edition of a regular program to include an interview with British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the candle lighting service at Lincoln Memorial with a speech by President Johnson; "Meet the Press," NBC, 6-6:30 p.m. — Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, is the guest; "The Story of Christmas," NBC special, 10-11 p.m. — musical program starring Tennessee Ernie Ford.

John F. Kennedy is the reason. For the first half of December the mail volume was 2.5 per cent below that of the same period a year ago.

Unless the peak expected this week shows a significant spurt, the Post Office Department expects the 1963 Christmas mailings to reach but not surpass the 10 billion pieces handled in 1962.

"I can't imagine what else could have caused the lag," Asst. Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen told a reporter. "The President was assassinated Nov. 22, and we're convinced people just didn't feel like buying and addressing and mailing Christmas cards and pack ages for a while after that."

AFFECTED BUYING

Every postal region except Chicago—center of the mail-order world—has fallen below expectations. Across the country, Christmas mailings by the beginning of this week averaged 5 per cent below the predicted rate.

The biggest lag was in letter mail, including Christmas cards.

So far, about 6.5 billion pieces of mail have moved through the system since the month began.

Meanwhile, the department reported the prospect of record sales for its 1963 Christmas 5-cent stamp, depicting the national Christmas tree and the White House. More than 2 billion are being printed.

GOP LEADERS PLAN ASSAULT ON NEW BUDGET

By JACK BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans are loading their elephant guns for an assault on the spending budget which President Johnson will submit to Congress in January. Johnson told a news conference Wednesday he intends to cut every possible dime of waste out of the new budget but doesn't know yet what the expenditures total will be.

WILL EXCEED RECORD

Informed members of Congress think the total is certain to go over a record $100 billion despite Johnson's efforts to keep the amount down in an election year.

At best the new budget will be only an estimate of how much revenue the government will receive and pay out in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. While spending can be estimated fairly accurately, it is more difficult to forecast revenue.

With a report in hand that the gross national product is passing the $600 billion mark, Johnson conceivably could shave the projected deficit with an optimistic revenue estimate.

WILL WATCH PROGRESS

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois made it clear Republicans are going to watch this process carefully and be ready to pounce on anything they believe they can characterize as excess spending.

Dirksen suggested at a news conference Wednesday that the President might send Congress a pared-down budget which would not stand up for a full year's operations and then ask Congress in 1965 to close the gap with additional appropriations.

"I am going to have to have some sound assurances that there are not going to be such supplemental requests for funds before I go along with any spending estimates that are submitted in January," he said. Johnson said that in trim-

JOHNSON USES DIPLOMACY TO END COLD WAR

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson evidently has decided to make full use of personal diplomacy to carry out his announced policy of seeking improved relations with the Soviet Union and an eventual end to the cold war.

This raises the possibility of an active period in U.S.-Soviet relations next year, although at the moment officials say no plan for negotiation or meetings has been developed.

EXCHANGE MESSAGES

The means of personal diplomacy open to the new President include periodic exchange of messages with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, public statements by Johnson specifically designed to influence the course of policies East and West and a meeting with Khrushchev.

The President Wednesday kept the way open for a meeting in a brief news conference statement that also had diplomatic implications in relation to the administration's developing view of the cold war and its interest in the struggle between the Soviet Union and Red China.

KHRUSHCHEV MEETING

Johnson was asked what he thought about the prospects for an early meeting with Khrushchev. He replied:

"I am ready and willing to meet with any of the world leaders at any time there is any indication a meeting would be fruitful and productive. When there are such indications, I will be glad to make a decision and inform you of it."

From other sources, it is ming the budget he is going to be careful not to sacrifice U.S. security and will not pass up new programs that are needed.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk also dealt positively with the idea of a summit meeting in a broadcast interview released Wednesday night by the State Department.

Rusk said that "the fate of the world does relate very definitely to the sense of responsibility of the President of the United States and the chairman of the Soviet Union, as heads of the two greatest nuclear powers."

In the interview, recorded for CBS Reports last week, Rusk said he thought that Johnson and Khrushchev would want to keep contacts open through diplomacy and "whatever means are suitable."

Integration Bill Is Signed In Del.

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Gov. Elbert N. Carvel signed Delaware's new public accommodations bill aimed at curbing discrimination into law without fanfare or public ceremony Wednesday night.

The bill makes it illegal in Delaware to refuse service to anyone in public accommodations because of race, creed, color or national origin. It repeals the state's old Innkeepers Law that permitted proprietors to refuse service to anyone if he felt it would injure his business.

The new law does not apply to the sale or rental of houses or apartments and tourist homes with less than 10 units. Barber-shops and hairdressing establishments are also excluded.

The Gospels Of Christmas

Editor's Note — The Apostle John lived what he wrote and was a witness to the great ministry of Jesus. Last survivor of the 12 disciples, John achieved full understanding of the phenomenon of God's love of man that is the great hope of Christmas. Here in the last of a series of five articles, is his story.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The withered old patriarch sat in a stone seat in the courtyard of the academy at Ephesus. He was past 90 years of age, the skin shriveled on his bones and his beard a great cascade of white down his chest.

Yet, as he turned this way and that toward the students gathered at his feet, his eyes flashed piercingly and his voice crackled with an iron wisdom.

Only John, among the 12 apostles, still survived. He had come to the winter of his life, yet spring still sparkled in him. And his memory swam with keen, rousing images. They had sharpened with the years.

SAW IT CLEARLY

"Tell us more, O venerable one, of the manifestation of our Lord."

Looking backward, the old firebrand "pillar" of the church could see it all more clearly and comprehensively now. The many separate threads formed a pattern, a vivid mosaic, and he could read its meaning and import. He said:

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God; all things were made through Him, and without Him was not anything made that was made."

So commences the most majestic, awesome and penetrating account of the first Christmas. DIVINE ARM

It delves into the taproots and fountainhead of Christ, Who is called the expressed "Word," or radiating force of the Almighty. The description asserts a strange seldom noted quality about Him, that He coexisted with God always, from before the physical universe, and that He Himself was the outstretching divine arm that created and vitalized all nature.

An industrious, vigorous "Word," indeed: "In Him was Life, and the Life was the Light of Men," John said. But men had strayed from it, even at the outset. "The Light shines in the darkness. . . . Yet darkness had become men's condition, despite the innate Light.

That, as the aged apostle perceived it, was the backdrop, the shadowy situation before the new day blazed in human history.

WIDE SIGNIFICANCE

Unlike other presentations of the Gospel, John looked behind its bare incidents to its stupendous, animating basis and its sweeping significance. True, it had unfolded among men, yet it had stemmed from beyond the far ramparts of the world. John omits any reference to Jesus' birth, earthly parentage of infancy. These things had become common knowledge. Instead, out of the distillation of time, reflection and gradually clarifying insights into an overwhelming experience, John had reached an understanding of it,

President Lyndon B. Johnson addresses the 113 members of the United Nations in the hall of the General Assembly in New York. He pledged continued U.S. support to the U.N. and made an "unswerving commitment to the keeping and strengthening of peace." (AP Wirephoto)

and sought to put it in full perspective. WERE BAFLED

Neither he nor the other apostles had grasped the implications at the time of Christ's physical companionship. He had often bewildered them. They had been repeatedly baffled, incredulous, frightened and bumblingly foolish.

The hot-blooded young John had once urged Jesus to call down fire on an unfriendly village. Again, John had vied for first place in the coming "Kingdom." On each occasion, he had been rebuked. He was dubbed a "Son of Thunder." Yet he was among Jesus' three most beloved confidantes.

70 YEARS LATER

Now, nearly 70 years later, presumably in the last decade before 100 A.D., the mellowed, old nonagenarian had assimilated and slowly brought into sharp, graphic outline just what had happened in those stunning days.

Since then, he had undergone severe tests, and had abundant time to meditate including a lonely period of exile on the barren island of Patmos, to which he had been banished by Roman authorities and where he had produced his mystical book of Revelation, or the Apocalypse. Eventually, when he was being returned from exile, legend says he was shipwrecked, and had to swim for miles on a piece of floating cork to reach shore. HARSH STRICTURES

The Ecclesia — those called into faith — remained under harsh strictures, suffering frequent violence. They were widely reviled as "atheists" because they refused to do homage at state altars. The brutal Domitian reigned as Roman emperor, unleashing sporadic persecutions.

A proconsul of the approximate era, Pliny describes his practice: "I ask them if they are Christians. If they admit it, I repeat the question a second and third time, threatening capital punishment; if they persist, I sentence them to death. For I do not doubt that, whatever kind of crime it may be to which they have confessed, their pertinacity and inflexible obstinacy should certainly be punished."

The recurrent waves of oppression, against both Christians and Jews, had gone on since Christ's coming. Revolutionary Israel had been crushed in blood by Roman legions in 70 A.D., never to be a nation again until 1948.

WILD BRAWLING

Howbeit, Christinallity spread invincibly and a numerous, strong community persisted in Ephesus, capital of Asia Province, with its bustling raucous harbor, its steaming baths, its ornate temple to the mother goddess Diana a site of wild brawling since no arrest could be made within a bowshot of it.

The church grew in that environment, and apparently even developed a teaching cadre centered around the frail, old Apostle John. Ancient references to the "John" there are sometimes ambiguous, and scholars at one time tended to date his Gospel later, by other authorship, but more modern findings support the early tradition.

DIVINE THRUST

In his prologue, whether written by himself or dictated to a penman, John sums up the entire case of the divine thrust to mankind, and puts it in total context. The rest of the book is merely a recital of specific evidence to support the opening conclusion.

John uses lean, simple words and short sentences, almost like an ancient Hemingway, yet they are charged with lofty and powerful content. He offers no chronological account, but rather an array of selected, significant episodes, which stood out in his memory. He deals with only 20 days of Jesus' 1,000-day ministry. Yet the scenes abound with minute, close-up detail.

WHO WAS CHRIST

But what was the meaning of it all? Who was Christ? Where did He come from? And why? John starts out with a considered assessment. Always, he says, the Light has shined "in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it."

But because of men's loss of contact with it and loss of their elemental bearings, "the true Light that lightens every man was coming into the world." Even before that "He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, yet the world knew Him not."

Then came the climax, the lights the most eloquent utterance of God:

GRACE AND TRUTH

"The Word became Flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth."

That was, and is, the phenomenon of Christmas. That is the sublime and amazing reach of God for man. The working extension of Himself, the eternal conveyor of God's thought and energy took on the bones, blood, travail and frailties of man in order to stick with men, and by them, even in their defection.

LOVE INCARNATE

It was, as John finally understood, Love incarnate, Love incarnate, Love bursting forth in physical creaturehood, in behalf of all humanity. It was not some mystical "spiritual" action, as the learned Greeks in those days regarded the "Word" or "Logos" of God, but on the contrary, a plainly human personal earthly event, showing God's interest in the very midst of the material world.

John, out of his long brooding, had achieved a crisp grasp of the whole transaction. He offered no theological speculation about it, but only the inescapable, full-blown reaction of a person to a person. "We have beheld His glory as the only Son from the Father . . . no one has ever seen God: the only Son who is in the bosom of the Father, He has made Him known."

DIVINE LIGHT

The Divine Light, always perfect in itself but long obscure to mankind, had at last flamed on man's level. That all-competent, benignly laboring "Word" had injected Himself personally into the realm of every person, as friend and brother.

John did not try to enumerate every part of the story. If everything Jesus did were "to be written, I suppose that the world itself could not contain the books that would be written," John's account concludes. But he records the important thing, the nub of it all. And he knew it was so "This is the disciple who is bearing witness to these things." He had lived what he wrote.

It is said that as he neared his death, the feeble old "Son of Thunder" was carried to meetings of worship in Ephesus on a pallet, and he would murmur to all who came near: "Little children, love one another."

That, in short, was the heart of the matter: Love. Mankind wrought in love, needed it, lost it, and received it again. That, John had come to know, was the meaning of what had happened to him. That was the theme of the most exciting, tremendous story ever told. The loneliness had ended. The Light breaks through. It is Christmas.

"Mother Courage" Gets Second Chance

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mother Courage" is getting a second chance to find a new York audience.

The Bertolt Brecht drama failed to catch the popular fancy last spring on Broadway. Now two of the production aides in that venture, Arthur Waxman and Richard Chandler, are arranging to install the play at the Theater de Lys in Greenwich Village.

Casting remains to be completed. In the uptown version, Anne Bancroft enacted the title role.

The Christmas Gift That Will Last A Lifetime

At no other time of the year do Pennsylvanians have a greater opportunity to enjoy the inheritance that has so richly endowed our lives than during the Christmas holiday period.

Ironically, as we enjoy the full substance of the gifts that are ours—the gifts of the freedoms—we unknowingly, but brutally, are threatening that great inheritance.

We are not reluctant to enjoy a rich legacy. We would not knowingly destroy that heritage, or the possibility of passing it on to future generations. And yet, every time a highway fatality or serious injury occurs, someone has been robbed.

CASUALTY TOLL

It is not trite for you to take seriously the highway casualty toll of more than 80,000 injuries annually on Pennsylvania highways. It is not trite to consider casualties that approach the toll of wartime a threat to our heritage.

Safety authorities are now dutifully reminding everyone that we are entering the time of year when that threat looms greatest: the time when our heritage should be enjoyed most.

On the highway, it is the time of year when merriment outweighs caution; gaiety defies gravity; vitality defies death; carelessness subdues safety.

The answer to highway safety during the Christmas season lies in the very spirit of the season itself. If the Christmas spirit is carried in the mind and heart of every motorist the traffic accident rate should drop appreciably.

ROAD COURTESY

The spirit of kindness, giving, love, and respect, practiced on the highways and by-ways, means that every driver would yield at intersections; no one would threaten himself or fellow motorists by driving while drinking; no one would give vent to anger by slow moving Christmas traffic; no one would place his heritage or the heritage of others in jeopardy by careless, callous driving practices.

By preserving life and limb you are preserving a rich herit-

COLLEGE GRIDS DREW RECORD CROWDS IN '63

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State, a traditional powerhouse at the turnstiles, led the nation's colleges to a record football attendance of over 22 million in 1963, despite the cancellation of 34 games because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Statistics released Thursday by the NCAA Service Bureau, show a record jump of 1,009,932 over the 1962 season pushing the total attendance to 22,237,094. The NCAA estimates the canceled games would have added 268,900 to the total.

The attendance marked the 10th consecutive year in which college football has recorded gains. In 1953, attendance was 16,681,731.

12TH TIME LEADER

Ohio State, meanwhile, was the individual leader for the 12th time in 13 years, although Michigan had the highest attendance count Michigan is the only team to interrupt the Buckeyes' domination, winning the title in 1957.

Ohio State was No. 1 with an average attendance of 83,205 per game, an increase of 264 a game over the 1962 figure. Michigan attracted 424,728 to the Buckeyes' 416,023, but played seven home games to Ohio State's five.

Louisiana State was second in average attendance at 66,141, with Michigan State No. 3 at 64,319. The rest of the top ten consisted of Wisconsin, Michigan, Texas, Minnesota, Iowa, Washington and Southern California. Four other schools also averaged over 50,000-a-game—Oklahoma, Illinois, Notre Dame and Georgia Tech.

MIDWEST GAIN BIGGEST

Illinois, bound for the Rose Bowl, recorded the biggest jump over last season, averaging a gain of 16,336 a game. Southern Methodist was second with a 13,532 increase and Stanford third with a 13,160 pickup.

UCLA and Tulane were on the other side of the ledger, with the biggest declines UCLA fell 10,792 a game and Tulane 10,552.

The biggest sectional gain was made by the Midwest while the Southwest had the biggest percentage increase and the South the highest attendance in the country for the sixth consecutive year—the only section over five million.

Midwest games drew 510,313 more than 1962 for a total of 4,911,298 to 5,755,967 for the South, an increase in Dixie of 117,820. The Southwest recorded a 13 per cent rise to 2,501,358, a jump of 288,284.

Eight conferences showed increases—Big Ten, Big Eight, Southwest, Ivy, Missouri Valley, Mid American, Southern and Big Six. Three showed losses—Atlantic Coast, Western Athletic and Southeastern.

Pitt ranked No. 22 in attendance with an average of 35,187 spectators a game, compared with an average of 40,636 the year before.

Penn State ranked No. 23 with 42,259 this year a gain over the 38,747 averaged last year.

age. By driving safely you are literally giving a gift that will last a lifetime.

The person who receives this great gift may never know you gave it. The recipient may never be aware he received it. But the heritage that is ours will live and be passed on to someone, somewhere.

The accident that never happened will never be recorded. It will never be tragically remembered. It must never be forgotten!

Second Lawyer Is Ousted Over Hoffa

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A former member of the Tennessee Legislature has become the second lawyer barred from federal court practice for being involved in alleged attempts to fix the jury that tried James R. Hoffa here last year.

Harry Beard Jr. of Lebanon, Tenn., a former state representative, was disbarred in an order signed Wednesday by U.S. Dist. Judges William E. Miller and Frank Gray Jr.

The judges accused Beard of discussing with Z. T. Osborn Jr., Hoffa's Nashville lawyer, proposals on how to get a juror to vote for the acquittal of Hoffa, brother of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Osborn was disbarred by the judges last month and subsequently indicted by a federal grand jury.

Osborn, the judges said, asked Beard to contact the husband of a juror and offer him $10,000. The grand jury indictment in the Osborn case identified the juror's husband as D. M. Harrison.

SAFETY HINTS ARE ISSUED TO XMAS SHOPPER

Christmas shopping and heavy holiday traffic are a dangerous combination, warns Charles E. Pugh, general manager of the AAA Pennsylvania Motor Federation, in issuing a six point "safety for shoppers" program. The Gettysburg Motor Club is an affiliate of the AAA, PMF.

Emphasizing that rushed and distracted shoppers create a special traffic safety hazard during the last week before Christmas, adding to the higher accident rate during December, the AAA official issued the following tips for holiday shoppers:

CARE IN DRIVING

1. Avoid window shopping when behind the wheel of your car, no matter how festive the shop windows.
2. Don't pile Christmas packages so high in the back seat of your car that the rear window is blocked.
3. Remain alert for traffic lights. In the gaily festooned shopping district, it is easy to mistake a Christmas ornament for a traffic light or vice versa.
4. Watch out for bundle-loaded pedestrians. Many shoppers are so loaded down with packages that their vision is obscured when they cross the street.
5. Plan your shopping trip so that you can avoid last-minute rushing if possible. Hurry and carelessness go hand-in-hand.
6. Leave the holiday spirits at

U.S. FUTURE ON DAVIS COP LOOKS BRIGHT

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Should the Americans recapture the Davis Cup from the Australians next week as expected they may set up a monopoly reminiscent of the Bill Tilden days in the early 1920s and the Jack Kramer era just after World War II.

The two top U.S. aces, Chuck McKinley, 23, and Dennis Ralston, 22, emphasized that they have no immediate pro plans and expect to be playing in amateur ranks for the next several years.

"The pros made me an unsatisfactory offer and I rejected it," said Wimbledon champion McKinley. "I do not expect any reopening of negotiations and I am not sure that I want to play pro tennis at all."

NOT INTERESTED

Ralston, newest sensation of American tennis, said flatly he is not interested in a pro career.

"I want to finish college and then I want to play a lot more amateur tennis," the University of Southern California junior said. "I want to win Wimbledon and our own championship. I'm not even thinking about pro tennis."

Former pro czar Jack Kramer, and the current president of the playing professionals group, Frank Sedgman, will be interested observers when McKinley and Ralston square off against the Cup-holding Australians on the Memorial courts here next Thursday.

NEED NEW BLOOD

The pros desperately need new blood from the amateurs to revitalize sagging interest in their tour and McKinley and Ralston are prime prospects. Speculation is that the pros will have to settle for Mexico's Rafael Osuna, holder of the American championship.

McKinley said that Segman had offered him a $50,000 guarantee, with $60,000 promised if the Americans win the Cup. Chuck refused to start talking for less than 75 grand.

Ralston said he had not yet been approached and he did not expect an offer until he won a major championship such as Wimbledon or the U.S. Nationals.

Both admitted that their present attitude might change in case someone offered a fantastic figure such as perhaps $100,000. Both discounted such a possibility.

"Happiest Cop" Is At Lockbourne AFB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A friendly greeting awaits all those qualified to enter Lockbourne Air Force Base.

An air policeman on the main gate, Staff Sgt. Robert Rickard, has gotten his fellow military policemen into the habit of offering a personal spoken greeting to each vehicle as it passes after being checked.

"I don't know how it started," says Rickard called the "happiest cop in the Air Force" by many of his friends. "Just common courtesy I greet about 3,000 autos each morning, but payday is a real workout" (with an estimated 11,000 to 12,000 cars).

EARS EARMARK HUMANS, AID IDENTIFICATION

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Your ears earmark you, distinguish you from any other person in the world, says a law enforcement officer who has studied thousands of human hearing organs.

"No two ears are identical — not even on the same head," explains Deputy Marshal Alfred V. Lannarelli of the Alameda County Sheriff's Department.

Lannarelli, 38, has turned 14 years of research into a book, not yet published, outlining a system of ear identification.

The system involves photographing the outer ear, measuring and cataloging its conformation and main parts, and classifying special characteristics.

It compliments fingerprint identification, and sometimes is more practical, the officer says. He cites the hospital delivery room as an example. Fingerprinting the new born child isn't feasible, he says. And fingerprinting of hospital new born in California was abandoned in 1959 since 85 to 90 per cent of the prints were smudged and of little value for identification.

The Lannarelli system of ear identification has been in use in Alameda County's Highland Hospital, Oakland, since March — its first large-scale test. Nurses using 35 millimeter cameras have photographed the right ears of more than 1,400 infants.

Indexed and filed, the photographs provide positive — and lifelong — identification, Lannarelli says. Wrist and leg bands are used by other California hospitals.

SPECIAL ATTACHMENT

The camera has a simple attachment designed by Lannarelli to assure easy and accurate focusing.

The process takes two minutes, including recording the baby's last name, sex, race, date and time of birth. The cost is no more than four cents per child, Lannarelli says.

Hard Work May Lengthen Life

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Advising his company's employees, Dr. Rex Wilson, director for B. F. Goodrich Co., said the way to live to be 100 "probably lies in hard work, an intense desire to live and a sheltered existence, avoiding life's hard knocks."

A balanced diet, proper rest and a generous helping of enthusiasm round out the stuff of which longevity is made, the doctor said.

He has tested his system on twins, triplets and quadruplets considered identical, each could be singled out by ear.

Lannarelli credits a French anthropologist, Alphonse Bertillon, with originating the idea of ear identification almost 100 years ago. Bertillon, chief of the identification section of the Paris police, included ear width and length in his measurements of criminals. He noted that all ears seemed different and his identification system came into worldwide use by police.

It was later replaced by the fingerprint identification system.

DEWEY BACKS JOHNSON'S STAND ON AID

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, two-time Republican candidate for President, says he is solidly behind President Johnson's efforts to prevent severe congressional cuts in foreign aid.

Dewey, in Pittsburgh for a speaking engagement, told a press conference Wednesday night some of the cuts being made or proposed by Congress are "capricious."

"To cut foreign aid severely would embarrass our foreign policy," the three-time governor of New York said. "Such cuts would also cause revolutions in some quarters overseas as well as embarrass the Alliance for Progress in Latin America."

Referring to possible cuts in aid to South Korea and South Viet Nam, Dewey said, "If those appropriations should be cut we would be betraying our own dead as well as our living. It must be remembered that the maintenance of foreign troops is one-tenth the cost of maintaining our own troops either overseas or over here."

LONDON (AP)—About half a million Africans from Portuguese Angola have slipped past Portuguese patrols and taken refuge in the Congo in the last two years, a British Baptist missionary reports.

The Rev. W. David Grenfell said Wednesday night 200 to 400 refugees are still entering the Congo weekly. But he said the "refugees dare not cross over at night because the Portuguese have planted trip mines which blow them to pieces."

23 Wells Supply Residents Water

DORA, N. M. (AP)—The water supply for Dora's 150 residents has consisted of 23 individual wells which pumped from one pint to one gallon a minute. The schools have depended on 15,000 gallons of water hauled from nearby Lubbock, Tex., once a month by a milk hauler who filled up the empty milk cans with water.

But now, with a $83,000 loan from the Farmer's Home Administration, Dora will have a large well three miles from town, transmission pipes to an 80-foot storage tank and connections to the meters of 48 prospective users.

Allen Chapman, president of the new Dora Water Cooperative Assn., said "There are no lawns, flowers, shrubs or gardens in Dora. We didn't have any water so we have done without it."

He added that when water first gushed from faucets, there will be a celebration.

"We'll drink toasts to each other," he said, "with water, of course."

Contempt Charge Refused By Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A city councilman who testified before a grand jury that the jury was "out to get me" will not be held in contempt of court. Judge Joseph E. Gold denied a motion Wednesday by the grand jury, which is investigating possible city hall scandal here, to hold councilman Emanuel Weinberg on a contempt charge.

The charge was brought against Weinberg when he was unable to give the name of a single person out of 30 he claimed had told him the jury was "out to get me."

EVERGREEN TREE SYMBOL OF CHRISTMAS

One of the most beloved symbols of the Christmas season, the decorated and illuminated evergreen tree, was introduced into the United States from Germany and became established here by the middle of the 19th century, according to Dr. Philip A. Shelley, professor of German and comparative literature and head of the department of German at the Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa.

Dr. Shelley, whose interest in the origin of the Christmas tree and its introduction into this country is a part of his more comprehensive studies of the influence of German culture and literature in both England and the United States, notes that the earliest recovered reference to the custom are recorded at the end of the 15th and during the 16th century in the area around Strassburg in Alsace; there too, at the beginning of the 17th century, are attested the earliest credible instances of decorated Christmas trees.

CUSTOM SPREADS

Spreading to other parts of Germany in the course of the 17th and 18th centuries, the custom was carried elsewhere in Europe by travelers, civil servants, soldiers and religious refugees and missionaries, and it was brought to America by German immigrants of various types who sought to preserve in the land of their adoption this and other Christmas customs of the Fatherland.

Aside from sporadic instances of Christmas trees reported in such scattered sections of the country as Maine, Illinois, and Virginia, the first well-authenticated and accurately described Christmas tree was set up in Massachusetts in 1832 by a German refugee, Charles Follen, in his home in Cambridge.

Follen, who was professor of German at Harvard, was the first holder of this title in the United States. The first pictorial representation of the Christmas tree thus far discovered in this country likewise appeared in Massachusetts in the form of a woodcut engraving used as the frontispiece of a book published at Boston in 1836 by Hermann Bokum, another German emigre and successor to Follen.

PLAYS LEADING ROLE

Pennsylvania played a leading role in the history of the introduction of the Christmas tree into the United States, Dr. Shelley points out. As early as 1747 the Moravians in Bethlehem are recorded as having used pyramids of green brushwood decorated with candles, apples and verses. In the early decades of the 19th

FT. ATKINSON BUILT TO HOLD INDIAN TRIBE

By VIRGIL CORDER
FORT ATKINSON, Iowa (AP)—Slumbering on a bluff overlooking the Turkey River in northeast Iowa is what remains of old Ft. Atkinson—only Army Fort in American history built to protect one Indian tribe from another.

Ft. Atkinson might never have been built if northeast Iowa hadn't been so plentifully supplied with game.

For centuries the area was the favorite hunting ground for Indian tribes, and they fought bloody wars over it.

The Sioux to the north and the Sac and Fox to the south were carrying on sporadic warfare among themselves to preserve their hunting rights in northeast Iowa when the first white settlers pushed into the lands east of the Mississippi River. Uneasiness over the encroachment of the white man heightened the tension between the two tribes.

PEACE MAKER

The United States then stepped in as peace maker. It established a "neutral line" running from the Upper Iowa River south and west through the Turkey River bottom southwest of Decorah. The tribes agreed to stay 20 miles on either side of the line.

That's the way things stood until 1840, when the War Department moved the Winnebago Indians into the strip from the land east of the Mississippi which they had ceded to the whites.

The plan was to give the peaceful Winnebagoes tools, educate them and let them farm the land. But the Indians took a dim view of it.

The Winnebagoes were fearful of being wiped out by the warlike Sioux on the north and the Sac and Fox on the south. As far as those tribes were concerned, the Winnebagoes were upstarts in their traditional hunting grounds.

BUILT FOR PROTECTION

To protect the Winnebagoes and induce them to stay, Brig. Gen. Henry Atkinson ordered the fort erected. But the plan didn't work out. Nine years later some 2,500 Winnebagoes and 1,600 ponies were moved in by Army wagon north to near Blue Earth, Minn., then part of Iowa territory. The last troops left Ft. Atkinson later that year.

A sequel was that the Winnebago, terrified of the Sioux and in closer proximity to them than ever, moved to Nebraska and found refuge with the Omaha Indians. They still live in Nebraska.

FORTS ABANDONED

After the troops moved out, the old fort here fell into disrepair. Settlers salvaged glass, hardware, windows and doors from the stone buildings, and used the old stockade for firewood.

The War Department sold the remaining buildings in 1855 for $3,521 and the land was sold to settlers at $1.25 an acre. The present caretaker of the partly reconstructed fort, S. W. Pavlovic, recalls having played in cornfields on the site as a boy some 50 years ago.

The state of Iowa acquired the fort site in 1921, but it wasn't until a year ago that it was dedi-

Indian Mounds Reveal Skeletons

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A retired steel worker who is an amateur archaeologist has uncovered what may be one of the most unusual Indian mounds ever found in this southeast Ohio area.

"It's quite unusual to find two skeletons buried side-by-side," says Ernest R. Sutton. "Even more rare is that the man's bones (the other is believed to be a woman) were buried in a stone tomb."

Sutton thinks the male, buried on his side and surrounded by shells, may have been a chief and the woman his wife. Earlier, other remains were found above them, lying practically parallel with the heads in reverse position.

The old blockhouse has been rebuilt and now houses a museum. Still intact are the old cannon and magazine buildings, and the foundation of the officers' barracks can be seen.

World News

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Police guarded Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and other high officials Thursday as the government continued rounding up persons suspected of involvement in an alleged Indonesian plot to sabotage vital installations in Malaysia.

The Prime Minister Wednesday accused Indonesia of sending saboteurs to blow up water lines, railroads and power stations in an effort to shatter Malaysia's economy.

A government source said hundreds of persons have been picked up for questioning and the backbone of the plot has been broken.

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—The Bavarian Innkeepers' Association announced Thursday it is planning a test suit for damages from the state, claiming authorities ordered too many days of mourning.

The association said many innkeepers had serious losses because of the no-dance, no-jukebox mourning periods proclaimed after the assassination of President Kennedy and the death of Theodor Heuss, former West German president.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Conestoga Telephone and Telegraph Co., Birdsboro, will reduce annual rates to 175 subscribers $2,423 starting Jan. 1.

The Public Utility Commission, which ordered the reduction Wednesday, said the savings will result from extension of the Sassafrasville base rate area in Montgomery County to include adjoining residential sections.

AS LAYOFF NOTICES ARE RESCINDED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)

—Christmas layoff notices were rescinded Wednesday night by the Pennsylvania Railroad at its Renovo, Pa. shops.

A PRR spokesman said that because of a personal request of Gov. Scranton the company was giving the matter further consideration, even though there is no need for work to be done at this time in the Clinton County community.

The PRR had given notice that it was laying off 178 workers at Renovo on Dec. 23.

TALKS CONTINUE

Contract negotiations between the International Transport Workers Union and the company over a proposed four-day week and work rules, were scheduled to be broken off by the union, as a result of the proposed layoff.

But in Renovo, Andrew Kaelin,

Kaelin said about 500 residents of Renovo attended a meeting earlier Wednesday. They adopted a resolution urging the railroad to halt the proposed layoff. "In order that all of us can peacefully enjoy the holy season of Christmas" according to Kaelin.

NEW PRAISES FOR JFK ON CBS REPORTS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara used the same phrase three times Wednesday night to describe John F. Kennedy: "Graceful under pressure."

"I think he was everything I would want to be, everything I'd want my son to be," said McNamara. "An intellectual, with a very rare talent for translating thought into action. Witty, fun-loving, with a passion for excellence. He was that under pressure. He was that in times of crisis. He was that at all other times."

McNamara was one of four Cabinet members interviewed by "CBS Reports" about the late president and the accomplishments of his administration. His recollections were the most personal.

3 OTHERS TALK

Kennedy and his successor were the subjects of interviews with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and McNamara. The show was taped after the Cabinet members had their first meeting with President Johnson.

If anything, the hour contained too much information, covered too much important ground. It was hard to absorb one viewpoint on a subject before someone else was talking on another subject far removed.

DANNY THOMAS TO GO

Danny Thomas' departure from CBS at the end of this season for NBC, announced Wednesday, caught many people by surprise. For several seasons, the prosperous Thomas, who has a substantial interest in four television series besides
